Purge Puts Doubt Into Viet Future

Generals Dissolve National Council In Latest Power Move

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—The future of South Viet Nam's government and the war against the Viet Cong have been thrown into doubt by a weekend political purge by young Vietnamese generals.

The "Young Turks" dissolved the High National Council and arrested most of its nine members, plus more than 20 other leading politicians.

U.S. military and diplomatic officers made no official statement on the crisis — the country's sixth government upheaval in less than 14 months — but American displeasure was evident.

"This power play did not seem called for," said one U.S. official, "and basically we have to regard these generals as rebels against the duly constituted government."

Premier Tran Van Huong and Chief of State Phan Khac Suu were still nominally in power. In a broadcast proclamation, the junta of young generals declared confidence in and support for both men.

U.S. officials said the latest assertion of over-all authority by the military badly damaged the civilian government's position.

Brig. Gen. Nguyen Chanh Thi, commander of the 1st Army Corps, is the dominant member of the junta. He escaped to Cambodia in 1960 after failing in an attempt to overthrow the Ngo Dinh Diem government. Since Diem's death he has risen rapidly in the Vietnamese army.

Acting with him in Sunday's pre-dawn, bloodless purge were Brig. Gen. Nguyen Cao Ky, air force commander; Brig. Gen. Le Nguyen Khang, Marine Corps commander, and Brig. Gen. Nguyen Van Thieu, 4th Corps commander.

About 70 staff officers who had been assigned to the chief of state's office were shipped off under guard to the mountains north of Saigon. All had been on the staff of the former chief of state, Lt. Gen. Duong Van Minh, and had been left at the disposal of his successor.

The military's rapid move caught leaders of the Buddhists' antigovernment campaign by surprise. Their weekend of hunger striking and demonstrating was cut short and Buddhist followers were told: "For the time being just pray and go home."

Pressure from the Buddhists appeared to have been lifted, at least temporarily. Several of the politicians under arrest had been targets of the Buddhists, but several persons who had been associated with Buddhist extremists also were arrested.

The generals promised "impartiality vis-a-vis every religious and political difference," and said they were "ready to act as a mediator between all differences in order to achieve national unity, annihilate the Communists and safeguard the nation."

Lt. Gen. Nguyen Khanh, chief of the armed forces and former premier, nominally gave the order to dissolve the council and carry out the arrests.

Dynamite Bomb Rips House In Steubenville

STEUBENVILLE — A house at 133 S. Water St. occupied by Judith Jordan was damaged heavily by a bomb at 12:03 a. m. today.

The bomb, apparently made from several sticks of dynamite, ripped out the rear and west side of the home and broke 57 windows in nearby homes.

Police, en route to investigate, found a bag containing nine sticks of dynamite. Shortly afterward two men riding in a station wagon with Pennsylvania tags were taken into custody. Two sticks of dynamite allegedly were found in the vehicle. Officers raided alleged houses of prostitution in the area of the bombing Saturday night.

Man, 22, Burned In Fiery Mishap

A 22-year-old West End man remained in "serious condition today at City Hospital with severe burns suffered early Saturday night when the gasoline tank was ripped off an auto and set afire in a spectacular three-way crash on the "super-road" section of W. 8th St.

Leonard Cowey of Stewart's Trailer Court suffered extensive burns of the face, left arm, body and right leg when hurled out of a 1964 sedan driven by his brother, David Cowey, 24, of 536 Carolina Ave., Chester, after it was rammed from the rear by a truck and shoved across the center line of the four-lane highway into the path of a Pleasant Heights man's auto.

TWO OTHERS were hurt less severely in the collision, timed at 5:57 on W. 8th St. near Gaston Ave.

David Cowey suffered abrasions of the left knee and contusions of the right arm, foot and knee. James C. Wilkinson, 24, of Densmore Ave. and Lisbon St., operator of the other auto, suffered a laceration under the arm and abrasions of the ankle, head and chest. Both were treated and released.

The driver of the rig escaped unhurt. He was listed as Charles Walter Oliver, 39, of Farmdale, Ohio. David Cowey's car and the truck were westbound and Wilkinson was headed east.

LEONARD COWEY apparently was hurled from his brother's car by the impact of the crash and then burned by gasoline set afire as the fuel tank was ruptured and torn off the auto.

David Cowey told police he halted to make a left turn onto Gaston Ave. when his car was hit from the rear.

"The next thing I knew, my car was on fire and my brother was on the pavement in flames," he told Patrolmen L. E. Richard and Karl Samples.

—:—

WILKINSON told officers he was driving east on W. 8th and saw David Cowey halted to make a left turn. The truck hit the Cowey car from the rear and drove it across the center line into Wilkinson's auto, he said.

"I tried to swing to the right to avoid the crash and my car ended up on Gaston Ave.," Wilkinson said.

Police said David Cowey's car hit Wilkinson's auto and then rebounded across W. 8th St., hitting the curb on the north side.

OLIVER, driving a truck owned by Ralph Whipkey of Warren, Ohio, told officers he was proceeding west about 25 miles an hour when he saw the brake lights and left turn signal flash on the Cowey car. He said he attempted to stop, but his rig slid on wet pavement and hit the rear of the auto.

As the car plunged across the center line, the gas tank exploded, he related. Oliver said he saw Cowey's auto hit the Wilkinson car and then rebound

Heart No Problem

Johnson's Doctor Says President's Health 'Fine'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The man in all the world closest to President Johnson's heart — his cardiologist — said today that the President is in fine shape to weather the next four strenuous and demanding years.

Indeed, Dr. John Willis Hurst — who has been keeping regular tabs on the President's heart ever since his severe coronary attack in 1955 — indicated Johnson may even have an edge on many other men of his 56 years in coping with the physical and emotional stresses of life.

Dr. Hurst discounted any thought that the President, since taking office, has been maintaining a possibly dangerous "frantic" pace, as at least one doctor not associated with his case has put it.

Dr. Hurst, professor and chairman of the Department of Medicine, Emory University School of Medicine, Atlanta, Ga., made the statements in a telephone interview.

He thus became the second physician among the President's team of doctors to give an up-to-date — and highly optimistic — appraisal of the chief executive's health as he approaches his inauguration.

Earlier in the weekend, Dr. James W. Cain of the Mayo Clinic, Rochester, Minn., pronounced the President in "excellent health. There is no health reason why he should not continue an active, vigorous life for many years."

In fact, Dr. Cain added, "I think he's in better health than I've seen him in years."

Budget Cuts Given Study By Johnson

President Reviews Spending With Top Aides At His Ranch

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP)—President Johnson gave budget-cutting top priority today as he settled down at the LBJ Ranch for the Christmas holidays. He planned to discuss spending with his budget director and three Cabinet officers.

Press secretary George E. Reedy described Johnson as determined to reduce spending requests "as prudently as he can, and as far as he can within the limits of efficiency and effectiveness."

Many administration officials in Washington are predicting that by New Year's Day, Johnson will have whacked federal spending proposals below $100 billion for the year starting July 1, 1965. He has said this will be difficult, but he did it last year after making some negative forecasts.

Those on hand at the ranch included Budget Director Kermit Gordon, Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges, Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz, Secretary of the Interior Stew-

Train Crash Claims 41 In Mexican Fog

VILLAHERMOSA, Mexico (AP) — A speeding freight train rammed into the back of a halted passenger train in dense fog near here Sunday, killing 41 persons and injuring 75. Three of the injured were American tourists.

Nils Werner of Alhambra, Calif., was reported in critical condition. His right arm had been amputated and he was in danger of losing a leg.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Benson of Fresno, Calif., were reported doing well. They suffered leg fractures and other injuries.

The accident occurred at the mountain village of Tacotalpa, 45 miles south of this capital of Tabasco State in southeastern Mexico. The area is about 600 miles southeast of Mexico City.

The Americans were on their way back to Mexico City after visiting the archeological area of Palenque, in nearby Chiapas.

Authorities blamed the wreck on the fog and lack of attention on the part of the engineer of the freight train. A member of the freight train crew said the engineer apparently had been dozing and did not see the stopped train until too late.

The engineer, identified as Miguel Sanchez Cruz, fled from the scene.

The passenger train had left Tenosique, in Tabasco, and was on its way to Coatzacoalcos in Veracruz State. It had halted for a 10-minute routine stop when the freight train hit it.

The mercury hit 27 at 5 a.m. today in downtown East Liverpool. It stood at 22 in the suburbs at the same time.

Egypt Claims U.S. Plane Defied Order

Jet Fighters Down Oil Concern Plane, Pilot, Copilot Die

CAIRO (AP) — The Egyptian government said today a U.S. oil company plane shot down near Alexandria Saturday ignored repeated orders to land.

Its American pilot and Scandinavian copilot were killed. They were identified only as Hoyt Williams, 44, of Texas, and Kejel Grup, 35, a Scandinavian.

A U.S. Embassy spokesman said the plane, a twin-engine Fairchild C82, belonged to the John W. Mecom Oil Co. of Houston, Tex.

The plane was on a flight from Amman, Jordan, to Benghazi, Libya, to buy drilling detergent for Mecom's operations in Jordan, a company spokesman said.

The Egyptian government said two Egyptian MIG fighters intercepted the plane as it started across the Sinai Desert south of Aqaba, Jordan, and ordered it to land at Cairo Airport.

After starting to set down, official reports said, the plane resumed its northwesterly course. It was shot down over Lake Idku, on the shores of the Mediterranean, the government said.

The pilot apparently filed a flight plan an hour before taking off from Amman. Egyptian authorities normally take a week to approve a flight plan and there appeared little doubt that officials here were not promptly informed of the flight.

The U.S. Embassy said it had requested a thorough analysis and review of the incident. It said the U.S. and Egyptian governments were cooperating in the investigation.

Although embassy sources said they viewed the situation with the utmost gravity, both governments appeared to be trying to prevent the incident

Jet Planes Battle

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — Four Israeli jets clashed today with four Jordan fighter planes which Israel claimed had penetrated Israeli airspace over the Judean Desert on the western shores of the Dead Sea, the government announced. There was little shooting and none of the Israeli planes was hit, the official report added.

30 Hostages Feared Slain By Congolese

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — Thirty more white hostages, all missionaries and their families, are believed to have been killed by rebels in the northeastern Congo, refugees arriving here said Sunday.

The missing include an American, Mary Baker of Richmond, Va. She was last reported at Banalia, 82 miles north of Stanleyville, on Nov. 20.

Fifteen other missionaries were missing from Banalia and 14 more from Bafwasende, 150 miles northeast of Stanleyville.

Fourteen refugees freed at Bafwasende by white mercenary troops said they were not sure the other hostages in the town had been killed.

"We heard one volley of rifle fire," said Dolena Burk of Calgary, Alta., "but later the simbas (rebel soldiers) promised us they had not been killed."

Mrs. Burk's husband is among the missing.

Other refugees said the mercenaries told them they found traces of a recent massacre at Banalia. Children's clothes, the habits of a nun and a priest and splashes of blood were discovered on the slope leading up to Banalia's ferryboat, the soldiers told them.

Besides Mrs. Burk, the survivors included 11 Italian Roman Catholic nuns and two British women missionaries. They were rescued Saturday.

Mrs. Burk said the simbas became furious after central government planes raided Bafwasende. All the white hostages, who had been crammed for three days in a single room, were taken out to be shot, she said.

"They separated us and the nuns from the others," she said.

Eight Dutch Catholic priests, her husband, a British family and an Australian and a British woman were in the other group.

9th Vote Fails To Pick New Italian President

ROME (AP) — Italy's deadlocked Parliament failed again today to elect a president.

It was the ninth ballot and sixth day of voting with no winner in sight.

Winter Bows In With Ice, Snow, Rains

25 Deaths Reported As Result Of New Storms Over U.S.

By The Associated Press

Fresh snow, rain and plummeting temperatures stung the Northeast and Northwest today as winter made its official debut.

At least 25 deaths were attributed to violent storms that followed a coast-to-coast cold wave.

Although the South and many of the middle states are experiencing a warming trend, the northern corners of the nation had no relief.

With 8 inches of new snow today, portions of the Montana-North Dakota area were still digging out from the storms in an effort to save thousands of stranded cattle and sheep.

Hundreds of cattle suffocated as ice formed on their nostrils and mouths. North Dakota Gov. William Guy called a meeting with Civil Defense, National Guard and highway department officials to determine what can be done to help the snowed-in ranchers.

"I've never seen a storm like that one," said one North Dakota rancher. Some portions of the

Cuba Reports Execution Of U.S. Agents

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Three agents of the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency were executed by a firing squad for "crimes against the nation's integrity and stability," Havana Radio said today.

Other agents were sentenced to prison terms of one to 30 years, the radio said. It did not say how many others were involved.

The Miami-monitored broadcast identified the U.S. agents shot to death as Ricardo Ulloa Olivera, Daniel Montero Camalier and Desiderio Valladares.

Ulloa and Montero were formerly in the Cuban militia, the radio said. It said Valladares was one of the leaders in what it called a "CIA network of espionage."

Havana Radio said the CIA ring had been operating in Pinar del Rio province.

Bank Truck Entered In Church Stop

Bandit Gang Holds Priests And Guards In Daring Robbery

PATERSON, N.J. (AP) — Six men held three priests and two truck drivers prisoners today and looted a bank truck and church safe of an estimated half a million dollars.

Details of the robbery were sketchy but police said the two truck guards and three priests were handcuffed and left in the rectory while the truck was looted.

The gunmen entered the rectory before the bank truck had arrived and took the priests prisoner. Then they awaited the guards.

When the two guards entered, they were seized and handcuffed. The truck had gone to the rectory to pick up cash, presumably from Sunday's church collections.

Police said the bandits forced a priest to open the church safe before the guards arrived. The bandits looted the safe and the truck, a panel type, of the First National Bank of Passaic County.

The bandits made their escape by car. An alarm was phoned into police headquarters from the rectory of St. Anthony's church.

Pay Hike Due Ohio's Liquor Store Clerks

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A 10 per cent across-the-board pay increase for all state liquor store employes was announced today by Liquor Director Don D. Cook.

He said the increase was granted, effective Jan. 1, 1965, at the insistence of Gov. James A. Rhodes, and that it was worked out with the Department of Finance and the Department of Personnel.

Director Cook said the increases, which will cost the department $345,000 a year, will be financed out of existing appropriations and that they are made possible due to 1963 departmental budget savings.

Cook said about 1,400 state liquor employes will be affected, and he listed these specific increases:

Retail Clerk I, now $240, going to $264 monthly.

Retail Clerk II, now $264, going to $288.

Store manager I, now $330, going to $360.

Store manager II, now $380, going to $420.

Store manager III, now $420, going to $460.

Store manager IV, now $460, going to $500.

The pay increase was made through regular channels and not as an emergency, the director said, adding it was placed on file with the secretary of state's office by Personnel Director Wayne Ward after certification by the Department of Finance.

"We heard one volley of rifle fire," said Dolena Burk of Calgary, Alta., "but later the simbas (rebel soldiers) promised us they had not been killed."

Mrs. Burk's husband is among the missing.

Other refugees said the mercenaries told them they found traces of a recent massacre at Banalia. Children's clothes, the habits of a nun and a priest and splashes of blood were discovered on the slope leading up to Banalia's ferryboat, the soldiers told them.

Besides Mrs. Burk, the survivors included 11 Italian Roman Catholic nuns and two British women missionaries. They were rescued Saturday.

Mrs. Burk said the simbas became furious after central government planes raided Bafwasende. All the white hostages, who had been crammed for three days in a single room, were taken out to be shot, she said.

"They separated us and the nuns from the others," she said.

Eight Dutch Catholic priests, her husband, a British family and an Australian and a British woman were in the other group.

9th Vote Fails To Pick New Italian President

ROME (AP) — Italy's deadlocked Parliament failed again today to elect a president.

It was the ninth ballot and sixth day of voting with no winner in sight.

Winter Bows In With Ice, Snow, Rains

25 Deaths Reported As Result Of New Storms Over U.S.

By The Associated Press

Fresh snow, rain and plummeting temperatures stung the Northeast and Northwest today as winter made its official debut.

At least 25 deaths were attributed to violent storms that followed a coast-to-coast cold wave.

Although the South and many of the middle states are experiencing a warming trend, the northern corners of the nation had no relief.

With 8 inches of new snow today, portions of the Montana-North Dakota area were still digging out from the storms in an effort to save thousands of stranded cattle and sheep.

Hundreds of cattle suffocated as ice formed on their nostrils and mouths. North Dakota Gov. William Guy called a meeting with Civil Defense, National Guard and highway department officials to determine what can be done to help the snowed-in ranchers.

"I've never seen a storm like that one," said one North Dakota rancher. Some portions of the

Cuba Reports Execution Of U.S. Agents

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Three agents of the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency were executed by a firing squad for "crimes against the nation's integrity and stability," Havana Radio said today.

Other agents were sentenced to prison terms of one to 30 years, the radio said. It did not say how many others were involved.

The Miami-monitored broadcast identified the U.S. agents shot to death as Ricardo Ulloa Olivera, Daniel Montero Camalier and Desiderio Valladares.

Ulloa and Montero were formerly in the Cuban militia, the radio said. It said Valladares was one of the leaders in what it called a "CIA network of espionage."

Havana Radio said the CIA ring had been operating in Pinar del Rio province.

Bank Truck Entered In Church Stop

Bandit Gang Holds Priests And Guards In Daring Robbery

PATERSON, N.J. (AP) — Six men held three priests and two truck drivers prisoners today and looted a bank truck and church safe of an estimated half a million dollars.

Details of the robbery were sketchy but police said the two truck guards and three priests were handcuffed and left in the rectory while the truck was looted.

The gunmen entered the rectory before the bank truck had arrived and took the priests prisoner. Then they awaited the guards.

When the two guards entered, they were seized and handcuffed. The truck had gone to the rectory to pick up cash, presumably from Sunday's church collections.

Police said the bandits forced a priest to open the church safe before the guards arrived. The bandits looted the safe and the truck, a panel type, of the First National Bank of Passaic County.

The bandits made their escape by car. An alarm was phoned into police headquarters from the rectory of St. Anthony's church.

Pay Hike Due Ohio's Liquor Store Clerks

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A 10 per cent across-the-board pay increase for all state liquor store employes was announced today by Liquor Director Don D. Cook.

He said the increase was granted, effective Jan. 1, 1965, at the insistence of Gov. James A. Rhodes, and that it was worked out with the Department of Finance and the Department of Personnel.

Director Cook said the increases, which will cost the department $345,000 a year, will be financed out of existing appropriations and that they are made possible due to 1963 departmental budget savings.

Cook said about 1,400 state liquor employes will be affected, and he listed these specific increases:

Retail Clerk I, now $240, going to $264 monthly.

Retail Clerk II, now $264, going to $288.

Store manager I, now $330, going to $360.

Store manager II, now $380, going to $420.

Store manager III, now $420, going to $460.

Store manager IV, now $460, going to $500.

The pay increase was made through regular channels and not as an emergency, the director said, adding it was placed on file with the secretary of state's office by Personnel Director Wayne Ward after certification by the Department of Finance.

The Hazards Of Winter

The hazards of winter driving can't be over-emphasized.

Poor driving conditions and limited visibility are pointed to by Warren C. Nelson, Ohio director of highway safety in a special reminder of the troublesome days ahead for motorists.

He points out that 891 Ohioans lost their lives in night-time traffic accidents during 1963 and that many of these "could have been prevented if the driver had correctly judged weather and road conditions."

Nelson offers the following winter driving tips in the hope that accidents can be held to a minimum:

During the winter months, slick roads, caused by rain, snow and sleet, make quick stops almost impossible. Snow tires and chains help, but the best solution is to allow always an extra stopping distance.

Good visibility is necessary for safe driving. Clear your windshield and side and rear windows and lights. You must be able to see danger to avoid it.

Slamming on your brakes on ice or snow-covered roads will send you into a wild skid. Don't rush from light to light. Drive at a safe, sure speed and watch what other drivers are doing.

Use your low beams when driving in fog, sleet or snow. Visibility is impaired when you use the high beams.

To help prevent "fogging up" of the windshield, keep a side vent open. This also helps prevent drowsiness and fatigue during long trips.

Cold remedies often contain drugs that can affect your driving. If you are under medication, let someone else do the driving.

"Above all," urges Nelson, "practice good driving habits and techniques at all times. Let's not repeat last winter's accident record."

Nobody Really Believed U.S.

The mark of inverted genius is on the latest proposal to bail out the United Nations.

Instead of a formal agreement, which would put nations delinquent on their dues in the embarrassing position of admitting they were wrong, it is proposed that the delinquencies be fudged over with a "rescue fund."

Contributions to this fund would be "voluntary" by unanimous decision.

All members would be pledged to kick into it, in other words. The Soviet Union and France, the two principal delinquents, would be "rescued" by the United States and the other nations where payments already have been made.

The United States would be in the ridiculous position of contributing to a fund to bail out governments that actually owed it money, because it has been paying more than its share of U.N. costs to compensate for their unwillingness to pay what they owe.

This is intolerable.

A while back, the Johnson administration was making progress toward convincing the world it meant to force a showdown on U.N. financing and was ready to abide by the consequences of closing its purse if governments delinquent in their payments continued to balk. But nobody really believed it.

Suddenly, the air at the U.N. was full of schemes for saving everybody's face, except the face of Uncle Sam. The old double deal was on again.

Early this month, a former secretary of state, Dean Acheson, made a speech in which he said this country should quit thinking like a starry-eyed do-gooder and start putting on pressure where it would do the most good.

"Decisions are not helped by considering them in terms of sharing, brotherly love, the Golden Rule, or inducting our citizens into the kingdom of heaven," he said. Harking back to a realist of some years ago, Calvin Coolidge, how about saying what Silent Cal said once when discussing Europe's unpaid war debts—"They hired the money didn't they?"

–But Don't Act Surprised

The United Steelworkers Union refers to its key demand for the new upcoming 1965 contract as "job and income protection for unlimited periods."

This is going to strike some USW members and part of the public as a new wrinkle in job contract bargaining. It isn't.

It is the oldest unwrinkled wrinkle in big-time collective bargaining. Just 10 years ago, in 1955, it was the hottest issue in union-management debate. It was called the "guaranteed annual wage" then, a title that has gone into disuse because it failed to convey the whole idea.

"Job and income protection for unlimited periods"—total job security—comes closer. Actually, the United Steelworkers talked about it away back in 1944, when World War II was in progress. It had its biggest play in talks between the United Auto Workers and management in 1955.

IT IS SO OLD in principle that 150 arrangements calling for it have been agreed to an abandoned in this century. Some are still in effect. Between 1946 and 1950, the National Association of Manufacturers encouraged members to stabilize employment to offset agitation for guaranteed annual wages.

If the United Steelworkers Union goes to the mat in earnest over total job security, everybody will be entitled to an opinion, but nobody will be justified in acting surprised. Job security is a shopworn issue.

Whatever it's called, the basic objective is to give production workers assurance of annual income, like salaried employes.

This already has been advanced through regularization of employment by employers and unemployment compensation. It is being done through a variety of fringe benefits that insulate workers against loss of income.

Within the widely varied limits of employer resources, ranging from small operations with wobbly financing to the multi-billion-dollar corporations with their vast resources, workers have moved so much closer to assurance of annual income than formerly was thought possible that the issue has been eased and cooled since 1955, when it threatened to reach a climax in the auto industry.

Proctor & Gamble has been operating a job security plan since 1923, though its plan has been employer-sponsored, not union-demanded.

EVERY liberalization of unemployment compensation has been, in effect, a concession to the principle of job security—to the principle that employers cannot afford to turn workers away when production lags without tiding them over until they are needed again.

It will be a kev issue in steel industry negotiations in 1965.

Don't act surprised. It has been around a long time. Researchers say the first annual wage contract was signed by the National Wallpaper Co. in 1894.

Cotton Corners

By Truman Twill

Dear Nephew: I have been carrying around a clipping about a speech by Dean Acheson, the former secretary of state.

I always liked this fellow, especially when he was a target for abuse by the people who didn't like Harry Truman. He uses his head for something besides a top knot.

He thinks "moralistic maxims" have no place in foreign policy. He says morals and ethics must be used with discretion in foreign affairs.

He is suggesting that we have too many hand-wringers and not enough two-fisted people nibbing into our foreign policy.

I think he also is saying the only test of foreign policy is whether it works, not whether it is morally right. For instance, the atom bomb stopped the Japanese war effort. It worked. Moralists are still threshing out whether or not it should have been used. It was morally wrong, but it saved U.S. lives.

Or take foreign aid.

It worked when we were trying to keep Europe from crumbling into pieces that the Russians could have swept up after World War II.

It isn't working now because we have turned it into an international boondoggle.

My hunch is that no moral standards can exist for nations. Nations don't survive by taking moral stands. They survive by doing what needs to be done for their survival, which may or may not meet the specifications of moralists.

That doesn't mean might makes right. I am talking about survival, and the first rule of survival is adaptation to reality. No nation that bites off more than it can chew and swallow is following the first rule. It must not make itself vulnerable.

The late John Foster Dulles used to bother me with what seemed to be moralizing at the expense of statesmanship. The fellow we have in there now doesn't impress me much, but he does seem to be a down-to-earth operator.

What I'm getting off my sunken chest is my misgivings about people who claim to know exactly what is internationally right and wrong, as if there were some dictionary of morality in which everything could be looked up.

When you go beyond the Ten Commandments in personal affairs, I grow confused. All my life people have been telling me this is right and that's wrong, but I notice some things they said were wrong later became right and so on. I don't believe they knew what they were talking about.

I like Dean Acheson's idea that we should stay clear of this confusion in foreign policy and just ask whether it will work.

No military man ever would have chosen to fight anything tougher than a sick mongoose in South Viet Nam, right or wrong. This is what I am thinking about. Maybe it's what Mr. Acheson is thinking, too. We should be saving ourselves, not the Vietnamese.

Mr. Acheson once took a dim view, if I remember, of fighting anywhere in Asia that necessitated being the underdog. I'm not even sure we got a draw in Korea. I think we got licked.

We'll see you Christmas Eve.

COTTON CORNERS UNCLE GEORGE

California, with 12 cities of more than 90,000 population, has more large cities than any other state in the U.S.

Calgary, Alberta, is the administrative hub of Canada's oil industry and is also the center of Alberta's cattle industry.

Court's Discord Seen Unprecedented

David Lawrence

Every now and then justices of the Supreme Court who dissent from a majority opinion of the tribunal speak out in vehement language. But rarely, if ever, have four of the justices told the other five, in effect, that they really didn't know what they were doing when they issued—as they did last week—a ruling unprecedented in American history.

The decision concerned two groups of persons, one of which went into a tearoom in a department store in Arkansas, and the other of which entered a lunchroom in a store in South Carolina. They seated themselves as part of a "sit-in" demonstration and asked for service. It was refused, and they declined to leave when requested. They were arrested as trespassers and convicted, but appealed their cases through the state courts without success.

Between the time they were convicted and the date that the Supreme Court considered their appeal, Congress passed the Civil Rights Act of 1964. The main question before the court, therefore, was whether the passage of the new law nullified the convictions. The court said it did and freed the convicted individuals.

THE ISSUE was not at all the same as that which was resolved by a unanimous Supreme Court last Monday when it upheld the public accommodations section of the new law. The demonstrators had performed their acts before the law was passed. They had refused to leave the premises and were arrested and convicted under state law.

Justice Black, one of the four dissenting justices of the Supreme Court in this case, said:

"Even assuming, however, that the Civil Rights Act was intended to let people who enter restaurants take the law into their own hands by forcibly remaining when service is refused them, this would be no basis for holding that Congress also meant to compel states to abate convictions like these for lawless conduct occurring before the act was passed."

Justice Black pointed out that the "legislative history" of the act is "perhaps the most extensive and careful" ever compiled for any bill passed by Congress — "including millions and millions of words writtne on tens of thousands of pages contained in volumes weighing well over half a hundred pounds, in which every conceivable aspect and application of the 1964 act were discussed ad infinitum."

He said that "not even once did a single sponsor, proponent or opponent of the act intimate a hope or express a fear that the act was intended to have the effect which the court gives it today."

JUSTICE STEWART, another one of the four dissenters, said that if Congress had provided that such state convictions were to be dismissed, he would find no difficulty in joining the court's disposition of the cases. But since Congress was silent on the subject, he felt that the cases should go back to the state courts for reconsideration in the light of the new civil rights statute.

Justice White also dissented. He was appointed by the late President Kennedy and served under him as deputy attorney general. In a separate opinion, he said:

"Finally, had Congress intended to ratify massive disobedience to the law, so often attended by violence, I feel sure it would have said so in unmistakable language. The truth is that it is only judicial rhetoric to blame this result upon Congress. . . . .

"Whether persons or groups should engage in nonviolent disobedience to laws with which they disagree perhaps defies any categorical answer for the guidance of every individual in every circumstance. But whether a court should give it wholesale sanction is a wholly different question which calls for only one answer."

JUSTICE HARLAN, the fourth dissenter, declared that the majority, in setting aside the convictions for offenses which had occurred before the Civil Rights Act had passed, was relying on "the federal doctrine of criminal abatement." He said:

"The supremacy clause cannot serve as a vehicle for extending the federal doctrine of abatement beyond proper bounds. That provision of the Constitution would come into play only if it appeared from the Civil Rights Act itself or from its legislative history and setting that Congress' purpose was to displace past as well as prospective applications of state laws touching upon the matters with which the federal statute is concerned.

"For me, this would have to be made to appear in unmistakable terms, for such a purpose would represent an exercise of federal legislative power wholly unprecedented in our history.

"I entirely agree with Justice Black's poignant observations on this score; there is not a scintilla of evidence which remotely suggests that Congress had any such revolutionary course in mind."

The doctrine that passage of a law by Congress can set aside convictions for crimes previously committed under state laws — which were valid at the time the offense was committed —is perhaps the most revolutionary ruling that the Supreme Court has enunciated in modern times.

GOP Governors Move Into The Picture

By RICHARD DOUGHERTY

Obscured by the furor over National Chairman Dean Burch is the fact that as of Saturday, Dec. 5, in Denver, a new force was born in the Republican party.

The force: A Governors' Association with muscle and with ambitions that far exceed the mere toppling of the Goldwater-appointed Burch.

By serving notice that they will set up an office and staff in Washington—a seemingly innocuous move—the 18 Republican governors and governors-elect did nothing less than openly express dissatisfaction with the GOP congressional leadership.

More than that they issued the boldest challenge to the tradition of having the leaders of the House and Senate be the principal spokesmen on national party policy.

IN EFFECT Sen. Everett McKinley Dirksen and Rep. Charles A. Halleck have been told to move over so that state chief executives can collectively take "their proper position in expressing, developing and preserving the philosophy of the Republican party."

That that gubernatorial position will often be happily in harmony with the positions of "Ev and Charley" is not very likely. On the governors level—the one level which showed a net gain on Black Tuesday, Nov. 3—Republicans have long since stopped fighting the New Deal and gone on to other things.

What is shaping up then over the next few years is less a struggle between Goldwater conservatives and GOP progressives than a much older and more profound conflict.

That is the conflict familiar to both Democrats and Republicans, between political men whose origins are primarily executive and those whose origins are primarily legislative.

The angry barons at Runnymede could not have been much angrier when they presented John Lackland with the Magna Carta than were the gentlemen who assembled at Denver's Brown Palace Hotel.

The anger was not directed at the Dirksen-Halleck leadership, or Dean Burch, or even Barry Goldwater. It was directed at the increasingly congressional character of the party over the years and the attending disenfranchisement of the governors.

This determination to set up a power base in the nation's capital augurs well for the future of the party and the nation.

IT OPENS UP the possibility of an infinitely more sophisticated and constructive Republican opposition on the great issues of the day.

Imagine, for example, a GOP position paper on an urban problem like mass transit which is the product of a committee composed of Rhode Island's John Chafee, New York's Nelson Rockefeller and Pennsylvania's William Scranton.

Or, to move west, a public power and conservation committee study which bears the names of Colorado's John Love, Idaho's Robert Smylie and Oregon's Mark Hatfield.

These are men who have to live with the strains and stresses of today, who have administrative responsibilities to foresee and prepare for the strains and stresses of tomorrow.

They must answer the needs of their people with practical programs—and direct the operation of such programs—under conditions which are alien to the experience of any legislator.

They can speak with a degree of authority which is denied most of the men on Capitol Hill—and they can speak for things with a freedom which is not generally visible among men chronically afflicted with the burdens of opposition.

Johnson's Prospects

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

President Johnson couldn't have a much better Christmas. He has everything going for him.

There's no crisis in sight. He has four years as President ahead. The country is prosperous. His own Democrats, in control of Congress, outnumber the Republicans tremendously.

Worse than that for his opposition, the decimated Republicans are even divided on where they go from here.

The Russians, having scuttled Nikita Khrushchev, are trying to get accustomed to being without him, but the Red Chinese are just as mad at them as they were at Khrushchev.

Johnson made so few promises in the election campaign he is free to go in almost any direction now and by soft-pedalling what he has in mind he has saved himself from criticism before he gets started.

Although the United States is the strongest military power on earth, the NATO Allies are disagreeing among themselves but they have been doing that quite a while and Johnson can not be blamed for it.

In fact, if they start getting along soon, he will probably get much of the credit since, instead of barging into the differences, he presents himself as the spreader of oil on troubled waters.

Even the civil rights turmoil has subsided a bit. And, thanks to the Supreme Court's approval of the ban on discrimination in places like hotels and restaurants, one big cause of trouble has had much of the sting taken out.

Johnson would like to keep the budget for next year below $100 billion, and he will be working at it on his Texas ranch this week, getting ready to present his figures to Congress in January.

But even here if he cannot reach the desired figure, a storm is unlikely because he has already done such a good job of creating an image of himself as a penny-pincher.

True, he does not seem to have figured out yet how to handle the press. He has been trying it every which way: in big news conferences announced ahead of time; in peripatetic conferences with a handful of reporters on the White House lawn; or in his office with small, selected groups of newsmen who can report what he says so long as they do not say he said it.

Nevertheless, he has been getting along all right, even with such mixed up arrangements, and no wonder. As President, he will keep on making front pages when he says anything and when he doesn't.

Fidel Castro is still a pain, but he was a pain to President John F. Kennedy, and there is no immediate need for a solution.

The Communists in Viet Nam are making a mess of any Johnsonian hopes for a quick or easy victory, but Kennedy had to sweat that one out too, and by playing pretty mum Johnson is keeping down the anxiety factor.

There is no sound of fussing among the Cabinet members he inherited from Kennedy and as they depart one by one, as they probably will, it will all be done with a public exchange of sweet regrets, thus preserving a position of harmony.

All this quietude, being a bit abnormal in the White House, may not last much beyond the first of the year. But, until then, Johnson can enjoy his Christmas tree, saying thanks to Santa Claus for a happy holiday.

The Hazards Of Winter

The hazards of winter driving can't be over-emphasized.

Poor driving conditions and limited visibility are pointed to by Warren C. Nelson, Ohio director of highway safety in a special reminder of the troublesome days ahead for motorists.

He points out that 891 Ohioans lost their lives in night-time traffic accidents during 1963 and that many of these "could have been prevented if the driver had correctly judged weather and road conditions."

Nelson offers the following winter driving tips in the hope that accidents can be held to a minimum:

During the winter months, slick roads, caused by rain, snow and sleet, make quick stops almost impossible. Snow tires and chains help, but the best solution is to allow always an extra stopping distance.

Good visibility is necessary for safe driving. Clear your windshield and side and rear windows and lights. You must be able to see danger to avoid it.

Slamming on your brakes on ice or snow-covered roads will send you into a wild skid. Don't rush from light to light. Drive at a safe, sure speed and watch what other drivers are doing.

Use your low beams when driving in fog, sleet or snow. Visibility is impaired when you use the high beams.

To help prevent "fogging up" of the windshield, keep a side vent open. This also helps prevent drowsiness and fatigue during long trips.

Cold remedies often contain drugs that can affect your driving. If you are under medication, let someone else do the driving.

"Above all," urges Nelson, "practice good driving habits and techniques at all times. Let's not repeat last winter's accident record."

Nobody Really Believed U.S.

The mark of inverted genius is on the latest proposal to bail out the United Nations.

Instead of a formal agreement, which would put nations delinquent on their dues in the embarrassing position of admitting they were wrong, it is proposed that the delinquencies be fudged over with a "rescue fund."

Contributions to this fund would be "voluntary" by unanimous decision.

All members would be pledged to kick into it, in other words. The Soviet Union and France, the two principal delinquents, would be "rescued" by the United States and the other nations where payments already have been made.

The United States would be in the ridiculous position of contributing to a fund to bail out governments that actually owed it money, because it has been paying more than its share of U.N. costs to compensate for their unwillingness to pay what they owe.

This is intolerable.

A while back, the Johnson administration was making progress toward convincing the world it meant to force a showdown on U.N. financing and was ready to abide by the consequences of closing its purse if governments delinquent in their payments continued to balk. But nobody really believed it.

Suddenly, the air at the U.N. was full of schemes for saving everybody's face, except the face of Uncle Sam. The old double deal was on again.

Early this month, a former secretary of state, Dean Acheson, made a speech in which he said this country should quit thinking like a starry-eyed do-gooder and start putting on pressure where it would do the most good.

"Decisions are not helped by considering them in terms of sharing, brotherly love, the Golden Rule, or inducting our citizens into the kingdom of heaven," he said. Harking back to a realist of some years ago, Calvin Coolidge, how about saying what Silent Cal said once when discussing Europe's unpaid war debts—"They hired the money didn't they?"

–But Don't Act Surprised

The United Steelworkers Union refers to its key demand for the new upcoming 1965 contract as "job and income protection for unlimited periods."

This is going to strike some USW members and part of the public as a new wrinkle in job contract bargaining. It isn't.

It is the oldest unwrinkled wrinkle in big-time collective bargaining. Just 10 years ago, in 1955, it was the hottest issue in union-management debate. It was called the "guaranteed annual wage" then, a title that has gone into disuse because it failed to convey the whole idea.

"Job and income protection for unlimited periods"—total job security—comes closer. Actually, the United Steelworkers talked about it away back in 1944, when World War II was in progress. It had its biggest play in talks between the United Auto Workers and management in 1955.

IT IS SO OLD in principle that 150 arrangements calling for it have been agreed to an abandoned in this century. Some are still in effect. Between 1946 and 1950, the National Association of Manufacturers encouraged members to stabilize employment to offset agitation for guaranteed annual wages.

If the United Steelworkers Union goes to the mat in earnest over total job security, everybody will be entitled to an opinion, but nobody will be justified in acting surprised. Job security is a shopworn issue.

Whatever it's called, the basic objective is to give production workers assurance of annual income, like salaried employes.

This already has been advanced through regularization of employment by employers and unemployment compensation. It is being done through a variety of fringe benefits that insulate workers against loss of income.

Within the widely varied limits of employer resources, ranging from small operations with wobbly financing to the multi-billion-dollar corporations with their vast resources, workers have moved so much closer to assurance of annual income than formerly was thought possible that the issue has been eased and cooled since 1955, when it threatened to reach a climax in the auto industry.

Proctor & Gamble has been operating a job security plan since 1923, though its plan has been employer-sponsored, not union-demanded.

EVERY liberalization of unemployment compensation has been, in effect, a concession to the principle of job security—to the principle that employers cannot afford to turn workers away when production lags without tiding them over until they are needed again.

It will be a kev issue in steel industry negotiations in 1965.

Don't act surprised. It has been around a long time. Researchers say the first annual wage contract was signed by the National Wallpaper Co. in 1894.

Cotton Corners

By Truman Twill

Dear Nephew: I have been carrying around a clipping about a speech by Dean Acheson, the former secretary of state.

I always liked this fellow, especially when he was a target for abuse by the people who didn't like Harry Truman. He uses his head for something besides a top knot.

He thinks "moralistic maxims" have no place in foreign policy. He says morals and ethics must be used with discretion in foreign affairs.

He is suggesting that we have too many hand-wringers and not enough two-fisted people nibbing into our foreign policy.

I think he also is saying the only test of foreign policy is whether it works, not whether it is morally right. For instance, the atom bomb stopped the Japanese war effort. It worked. Moralists are still threshing out whether or not it should have been used. It was morally wrong, but it saved U.S. lives.

Or take foreign aid.

It worked when we were trying to keep Europe from crumbling into pieces that the Russians could have swept up after World War II.

It isn't working now because we have turned it into an international boondoggle.

My hunch is that no moral standards can exist for nations. Nations don't survive by taking moral stands. They survive by doing what needs to be done for their survival, which may or may not meet the specifications of moralists.

That doesn't mean might makes right. I am talking about survival, and the first rule of survival is adaptation to reality. No nation that bites off more than it can chew and swallow is following the first rule. It must not make itself vulnerable.

The late John Foster Dulles used to bother me with what seemed to be moralizing at the expense of statesmanship. The fellow we have in there now doesn't impress me much, but he does seem to be a down-to-earth operator.

What I'm getting off my sunken chest is my misgivings about people who claim to know exactly what is internationally right and wrong, as if there were some dictionary of morality in which everything could be looked up.

When you go beyond the Ten Commandments in personal affairs, I grow confused. All my life people have been telling me this is right and that's wrong, but I notice some things they said were wrong later became right and so on. I don't believe they knew what they were talking about.

I like Dean Acheson's idea that we should stay clear of this confusion in foreign policy and just ask whether it will work.

No military man ever would have chosen to fight anything tougher than a sick mongoose in South Viet Nam, right or wrong. This is what I am thinking about. Maybe it's what Mr. Acheson is thinking, too. We should be saving ourselves, not the Vietnamese.

Mr. Acheson once took a dim view, if I remember, of fighting anywhere in Asia that necessitated being the underdog. I'm not even sure we got a draw in Korea. I think we got licked.

We'll see you Christmas Eve.

Court's Discord Seen Unprecedented

David Lawrence

Every now and then justices of the Supreme Court who dissent from a majority opinion of the tribunal speak out in vehement language. But rarely, if ever, have four of the justices told the other five, in effect, that they really didn't know what they were doing when they issued—as they did last week—a ruling unprecedented in American history.

The decision concerned two groups of persons, one of which went into a tearoom in a department store in Arkansas, and the other of which entered a lunchroom in a store in South Carolina. They seated themselves as part of a "sit-in" demonstration and asked for service. It was refused, and they declined to leave when requested. They were arrested as trespassers and convicted, but appealed their cases through the state courts without success.

Between the time they were convicted and the date that the Supreme Court considered their appeal, Congress passed the Civil Rights Act of 1964. The main question before the court, therefore, was whether the passage of the new law nullified the convictions. The court said it did and freed the convicted individuals.

THE ISSUE was not at all the same as that which was resolved by a unanimous Supreme Court last Monday when it upheld the public accommodations section of the new law. The demonstrators had performed their acts before the law was passed. They had refused to leave the premises and were arrested and convicted under state law.

Justice Black, one of the four dissenting justices of the Supreme Court in this case, said:

"Even assuming, however, that the Civil Rights Act was intended to let people who enter restaurants take the law into their own hands by forcibly remaining when service is refused them, this would be no basis for holding that Congress also meant to compel states to abate convictions like these for lawless conduct occurring before the act was passed."

Explorer Orbits In New Study Of Space Radiation

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The Explorer 26 satellite soared into orbit today to measure space radiation and the threat it poses to men and machinery flying deep into space.

The 101-pound windmill-shaped satellite shot aloft from Cape Kennedy at 4 a.m. aboard a towering Delta rocket which blazed brilliantly into the predawn darkness.

The flight-control center announced an hour later that tracking information indicated all three stages of the booster had fired with precision and drilled the payload into space.

Launch director Robert Gray said that "everything seems to be working just as expected.

Explorer 26 was aimed at a looping course intended to take it 15,800 miles away from earth before it swings back as close as 200 miles at the low point of its orbit.

Because of the eccentric path sought, the satellite was to make one global circuit every seven hours.

Officials said it would require several hours to determine accurate orbital figures.

The newest in a long line of Explorer satellites is to carry on work started by its predecessors in probing basic scientific mysteries of space.

The Explorer experiments were designed to provide the most extensive information yet on how high-energy radiation particles become trapped in the earth's magnetic field to form the Van Allen belt and the danger the belt poses to men and machinery flying future flights deep into space.

The largest Indian reservation in the U. S. is in New Mexico, with more than 16 million acres inhabited by the Navajo tribe. The Apaches and Utes live in three other reservations in that state.

The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—discovery of a world-famous research institute.

This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H®. At all drug counters.

Chester Plant Crews Clean Up After Blaze

Production at the T. K. Roofing Co. at Chester was suspended today while crews cleared up water damage as a result of a blaze Sunday afternoon about 2.

A spark from welding equipment apparently ignited asphalt, and the automatic sprinkler system came on. Chester firemen also were summoned.

Water in the asphalt and other water damage delayed production, which is expected to resume shortly. There was no significant damage because of the flames, a company spokesman said.

Fires Claim More In U.S.

By The Associated Press

At least 66 multiple fire deaths have been recorded over the nation in the last three days with more than half the victims children.

House fires killed six and seven persons at a time as cold weather gripped parts of the nation in advance of today's calendar start of the winter. Home furnaces were pushed to near maximum capacity.

The death toll by days:

Sunday: At least 20 dead, 14 children and six adults. A mother and her six youngsters perished in one upstate New York blaze.

Saturday: At least 26 dead, 23 children and three adults, with one fire killing six youngsters, and two others claiming five each.

Friday: Fire swept a nursing home in Fountaintown, Ind., killing 20 elderly residents.

The upstate New York fire killed Mrs. Paul B. Breeden, 26, and her six children, aged 2 to 8, in their home in Palmyra, near Rochester.

The 31-year-old father returned home from a business trip to Chicago an hour after the blaze was discovered. Two adjacent homes also were destroyed but the occupants escaped.

Breeden, a spot welder, had found work in Chicago and returned to pick up his family.

Fires Claim More In U.S.

By The Associated Press

At least 66 multiple fire deaths have been recorded over the nation in the last three days with more than half the victims children.

House fires killed six and seven persons at a time as cold weather gripped parts of the nation in advance of today's calendar start of the winter. Home furnaces were pushed to near maximum capacity.

The death toll by days:

Sunday: At least 20 dead, 14 children and six adults. A mother and her six youngsters perished in one upstate New York blaze.

Saturday: At least 26 dead, 23 children and three adults, with one fire killing six youngsters, and two others claiming five each.

Friday: Fire swept a nursing home in Fountaintown, Ind., killing 20 elderly residents.

The upstate New York fire killed Mrs. Paul B. Breeden, 26, and her six children, aged 2 to 8, in their home in Palmyra, near Rochester.

The 31-year-old father returned home from a business trip to Chicago an hour after the blaze was discovered. Two adjacent homes also were destroyed but the occupants escaped.

Breeden, a spot welder, had found work in Chicago and returned to pick up his family.

Fire Loss $5 Million At Big Dallas Store

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Workmen began an around-the-clock cleanup job today in the famed Neiman-Marcus specialty store, where a weekend fire inflicted loss estimated at up to $5 million.

President Stanley Marcus said the downtown store will reopen Jan. 11.

Fire broke out in the seven-story structure before dawn Saturday, playing havoc with costly Christmas decorations and stock.

Marcus, on the basis of a $12-million to $15-million inventory, placed the damage to stock and building at around $5 million. He said the cleaning operation would require about 10 days.

"Then we'll need a week to freshen up and try to get rid of the smoke smell," Marcus said. "We'll come out of these ashes like a phoenix with a more beautiful store than before."

Judge Lectures Man In Violation Of Parole Terms

An East End man was haled into Municipal Court this morning for violating terms of probation imposed when a 10-day jail sentence was suspended for assaulting his wife.

Lonnie Adkins, 1625 Holiday St., appeared before Judge Samuel M. Chertoff, who said the defendant's wife reported to the court Friday that her husband had struck and threatened her.

After learning of the incident, Judge Chertoff ordered Adkins taken into custody. Judge Chertoff recalled that he had fined Adkins $50 and costs, but suspended the jail term on condition that he stay away from her.

"If it were up to me, you would go to jail," Judge Chertoff declared. "The only reason I'm not sending you to jail is because of your wife's plea."

Mrs. Adkins told the court her husband had choked her Thursday night. Questioned by the judge, the defendant said he placed his hands around his wife's neck "to scare her, not to hurt her."

When Mrs. Adkins said she was moving from the house, the judge again warned Adkins to remain away from her pending settlement of other court proceedings in Lisbon.

5 Crashes Reported

Auto Hits Truck; 3 Suffer Injury

An East Palestine youth and two passengers in his car were injured when it smashed into the rear of a truck on Route 14 Sunday night in one of five area weekend traffic mishaps reported by the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon.

Larry Hoopes, 19, of 196 E. North Ave., East Palestine, was headed west on Route 14 at a high rate of speed, officers said, when his sedan hit the rear of a slow - moving truck operated by Walter Gregg of Coraopolis.

TAKEN TO Salem City Hospital were Hoopes, who suffered a knee injury, and two passengers — Jeffrey Dutch, 22, of Columbiana R. D. 2, who received multiple abrasions and cuts, and Jodie Hoopes, 17, of E. North Ave., East Palestine, who received cuts of the forehead and right leg and possible broken fingers.

There was considerable damage to both vehicles, according to officers, who cited Hoopes for excessive speed and for lack of an operator's license. The mishap was timed at 6:35 three miles east of Route 7.

—:—

THOMAS R. Wiggers, 20, of 242 W. Pine St., Lisbon, was cited for speeding after his auto veered off Route 164 a mile north of Lisbon yesterday morning and smashed into a guardrail.

The patrol said Wiggers was headed north when he lost control rounding a curve.

Leonard Hickman, 21, of 525 Beaver St., Lisbon, was injured when his 1957 coach skidded off Route 164 about two miles north of Lisbon Sunday at 12:35 a.m. and rolled over in a ditch.

—:—

HICKMAN, treated by a physician for bruises of the jaw and left ankle and loss of several teeth, was headed south when an auto ahead of him began to skid, and he swerved to avoid a collision, the patrol said.

Glenn Burlingame, 25, of 345 Grant St. was arrested by the patrol after his car and another collided on the Pancake—Clarkson Rd. yesterday afternoon at 2:45.

The patrol said Burlingame was parked along the road about two - tenths of a mile west of Route 170 and had started to pull onto the highway when he saw a car approaching.

—:—

HE STOPPED, and the driver of the other car — Sondra K. Woody, 17, of Rogers R.D. 1—applied her brakes and skidded into Burlingame's 1960 coach. No one was injured, and there was moderate damage, the patrol said. Burlingame was cited for failure to yield the right-of-way.

William Christen, 17, son of Martin Christen of Glenmoor, was treated at City Hospital Saturday for bruises of the head received in a collision of his car and another at the intersection of Route 267 and the Y. & O. Rd. at Glenmoor.

Christen was headed north on Route 267 when another auto driven by Richard MacEag, 27, of Weirton, pulled from the Y. & O. Rd. and struck Christen's car.

There was moderate damage to both cars. MacEag was charged with failure to yield the right-of-way.

Ohioan Shot To Death While Fleeing Holdup

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—A 22-year-old attendant at a service station in suburban Springdale was shot and killed early today when he apparently attempted to flee from a gunman during a holdup attempt.

Police said the body of Dennis T. Madden, overnight attendant at the Shell Oil Co. station on Kemper Road near the Tri-County Shopping Center, was found in the street in front of the station. They said he had been shot four times and was dead when found.

Madden apparently was shot as he ran from the station during a robbery attempt, police said. He still had $154 in evening receipts on his person when found.

The body was taken to Cincinnati's General Hospital, where an autopsy was to be performed.

Franklin's Trustees Pay $251 In Accounts

SUMMITVILLE — Bills totaling $251 were paid by the Franklin Township trustees at a meeting Saturday at the township hall.

It was reported a catch basin was repaired at Millport. More salt has been obtained for snow control.

Tools for equipment repair were ordered. John Wargo, president, was in charge. The next meeting will be Dec. 31.

Inquest Scheduled

BATAVIA, Ohio (AP)—A coroner's inquest is to be held today in the fatal shooting of Cecil Coy Dugger, 28, Mason. Sheriff's deputies said Dugger was shot Sunday by his brother-in-law, James E. Dorsey, 25, when he broke into Dorsey's home at Goshen.

Auto Hits Truck; 3 Suffer Injury

An East Palestine youth and two passengers in his car were injured when it smashed into the rear of a truck on Route 14 Sunday night in one of five area weekend traffic mishaps reported by the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon.

Larry Hoopes, 19, of 196 E. North Ave., East Palestine, was headed west on Route 14 at a high rate of speed, officers said, when his sedan hit the rear of a slow - moving truck operated by Walter Gregg of Coraopolis.

—:—

TAKEN TO Salem City Hospital were Hoopes, who suffered a knee injury, and two passengers — Jeffrey Dutch, 22, of Columbiana R. D. 2, who received multiple abrasions and cuts, and Jodie Hoopes, 17, of E. North Ave., East Palestine, who received cuts of the forehead and right leg and possible broken fingers.

There was considerable damage to both vehicles, according to officers, who cited Hoopes for excessive speed and for lack of an operator's license. The mishap was timed at 6:35 three miles east of Route 7.

—:—

THOMAS R. Wiggers, 20, of 242 W. Pine St., Lisbon, was cited for speeding after his auto veered off Route 164 a mile north of Lisbon yesterday morning and smashed into a guardrail.

The patrol said Wiggers was headed north when he lost control rounding a curve.

Leonard Hickman, 21, of 525 Beaver St., Lisbon, was injured when his 1957 coach skidded off Route 164 about two miles north of Lisbon Sunday at 12:35 a.m. and rolled over in a ditch.

—:—

HICKMAN, treated by a physician for bruises of the jaw and left ankle and loss of several teeth, was headed south when an auto ahead of him began to skid, and he swerved to avoid a collision, the patrol said.

Glenn Burlingame, 25, of 345 Grant St. was arrested by the patrol after his car and another collided on the Pancake—Clarkson Rd. yesterday afternoon at 2:45.

The patrol said Burlingame was parked along the road about two - tenths of a mile west of Route 170 and had started to pull onto the highway when he saw a car approaching.

—:—

HE STOPPED, and the driver of the other car — Sondra K. Woody, 17, of Rogers R.D. 1—applied her brakes and skidded into Burlingame's 1960 coach. No one was injured, and there was moderate damage, the patrol said. Burlingame was cited for failure to yield the right-of-way.

William Christen, 17, son of Martin Christen of Glenmoor, was treated at City Hospital Saturday for bruises of the head received in a collision of his car and another at the intersection of Route 267 and the Y. & O. Rd. at Glenmoor.

Christen was headed north on Route 267 when another auto driven by Richard MacEag, 27, of Weirton, pulled from the Y. & O. Rd. and struck Christen's car.

There was moderate damage to both cars. MacEag was charged with failure to yield the right-of-way.

Ohioan Shot To Death While Fleeing Holdup

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—A 22-year-old attendant at a service station in suburban Springdale was shot and killed early today when he apparently attempted to flee from a gunman during a holdup attempt.

Police said the body of Dennis T. Madden, overnight attendant at the Shell Oil Co. station on Kemper Road near the Tri-County Shopping Center, was found in the street in front of the station. They said he had been shot four times and was dead when found.

Madden apparently was shot as he ran from the station during a robbery attempt, police said. He still had $154 in evening receipts on his person when found.

The body was taken to Cincinnati's General Hospital, where an autopsy was to be performed.

Motorist And Trucker Fined In Traffic-Blocking Charges

A store employe and a trucker were fined today at hearings in Municipal Court for traffic jams they created in the downtown business district.

Burnice E. Southall, 1628½ St. George St., was fined $10 and costs on a charge of leaving his car unattended with the motor running.

Southall was cited shortly after 9 a. m. today by Patrolman W. A. Devon, who said the defendant's car was double-parked on E. 5th St. for about 25 minutes, blocking one lane of traffic.

Southall told Judge Samuel M. Chertoff that he was late for work, halted his car and went to punch in, planning then to park, but was busy when he got to the store.

Kenneth Wayne Hescht, 627 Minerva St., who parked his tractor-trailer rig in a restricted zone on Market St. near E. 5th St. Thursday night, was fined $15 and costs after pleading guilty.

Lt. Charles E. (Bill) Tice told the court the 46-foot-long rig was parked near the intersection and buses continued onto Jackson St. rather than attempting to turn onto Market St. However, that maneuver forced the buses away from their normal parking zones on Market St.

"He had traffic all fouled up," Tice told the court. The officer said the rig was left unattended with the motor running.

Judge Chertoff termed Hescht's act "very thoughtless."

James Lee Powell, 18, of 1712 Jennings Ave. was ordered to pay the court costs, refrain from driving and not to apply for a new permit until after the first of the year when he appeared on a charge of driving without a license.

Powell was cited at 1:53 p.m. Sunday on Maine Blvd. by Patrolman Orin G. Smith, who said the youth's six-month probationary permit had expired Nov. 8.

Robert Eugene Stacey, 341 Briar Ln., was fined $25 and costs after being convicted of reckless driving as the aftermath of a wreck early Thursday in which his car ran wild for 195 feet along the eastern end of the city freeway. Stacey had pleaded innocent to the charge filed by Patrolman J.A. Walsh.

Four other motorists were fined on speeding charges filed by the State Highway Patrol.

Paul Joseph Stacko of Parma drew a fine of $10 and costs for speeding 60 miles an hour in a 45-mile zone on Route 30 at 9:25 a.m. today.

Edward Broderick, 19, of 609 Broadway, Wellsville, was fined $10 and costs on a charge of speeding 70 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone early Wednesday night on the East Liverpool-Wellsville Rd.

A not guilty plea was entered for Broderick after the youth admitted he was speeding, but denied he was going as fast as 70.

Emerson LeRoy Barnes Jr., 819 Buckeye Ave., Wellsville, and Paul Boggess, 21, of Marietta drew fines of $15 and costs each.

Both were accused of traveling 70 in 50-mile zones on the same highway. Boggess was cited Saturday night and Barnes was cited Sunday night.

Authorities Abandon Search For Deckhand

TILTONSVILLE, Ohio (AP) — A search was abandoned in the Ohio River Saturday for Marvin Hopkins, 21, of Warsaw, Ky., a missing deckhand.

Hopkins apparently fell or jumped into the river Thursday night after three barges loaded with 1,500,000 gallons of gasoline and oil exploded and burned.

Hopkins, presumed drowned, was aboard the Buckeye State, which was towing the barges.

More than an inches of rain fell on Los Angeles County, contributing to 10 traffic fatalities, authorities said.

Snow in New Mexico was blamed for one traffic death and a plane crash in which one man was seriously injured.

Interstate 80 in Oregon opened Sunday, freeing 200 stranded motorists who were caught Friday and Saturday.

In Indiana, three persons died on slick roads.

On the East Coast, central and southern New England were struck by four inches of snow as temperatures dropped to near zero in northern Maine. In northern New York State, temperatures fell close to zero and fresh snow covered the area.

U.N. Continues Battle To Collect Unpaid Dues

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — U.N. officials figure that the United Nations needs only $50 million or $60 million in voluntary contributions to pull out of the insolvency caused by $126 million in unpaid dues for peacekeeping operations.

But they are having trouble getting the Russians to help raise that much, even though the United States has cut $9.4 million off the sum it insisted the Soviet Union should chip in.

Secretary-General U Thant and Alex Quaison-Sackey, president of the General Assembly, are negotiating with the two big powers in hopes of settling the dispute over peacekeeping assessments and voting rights before the assembly's Christmas recess begins Wednesday.

Some diplomats believed the assembly could resume Jan. 11 without risking a Soviet-U.S. clash over the issue.

Article 19 of the U.N. Charter says any member two years behind in its assessments "shall have no vote" in the assembly. The Russians are more than two years behind because they refuse to pay assembly assessments for financing the Congo and Middle East peacekeeping forces. They contend that the Security Council alone is authorized to start and finance such forces. After Jan. 1 about 20 other countries will be two years delinquent, many of them for the same reasons.

The negotiations are aimed at setting up a voluntary fund as a face-saving device into which the Soviet Union and other members can pay so as to provide money to liquidate the peacekeeping deficit.

West Virginia Fires Claim Five Children

By The Associated Press

Two home fires during the weekend took the lives of five West Virginia children.

The worst blaze occurred Saturday night when four children in a Logan County family were burned to death.

The victims, ranging in age from 9 months to 4 years, were the children of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Minter of Logan.

Police said the fire may have been started by a faulty heater in the children's bedroom.

The blaze erupted after a 13-year-old babysitter went next door to eat. The children's parents were on a shopping trip.

Another house fire Sunday fatally burned a Putnam County youngster. He was Timothy Eldridge Sumner, 4, of near Hurricane.

The Sumners were able to rescue their five other children from the burning house.

Budget

art L. Udall and Dr. Donald Hornig, presidential assistant for science and technology.

A Budget Bureau official said in Washington Saturday that about 10 departments and agencies are appealing from the spending limits recommended by Gordon, and that it's now up to the President to make the final decisions.

John T. Connor, who will succeed Hodges as secretary of commerce in January, also came from Washington with the President so he could sit in on discussion of the department's budget requests.

Originally the requests of 70 departments and agencies totaled $108.5 billion. Actual spending during the current fiscal year is currently estimated at $97.2 billion.

Some reductions have been made in the spending requests, but by how much has not been disclosed. These requests were only for existing programs and do not include new programs Johnson plans to recommend such as funds for the depressed Appalachia region.

Administration sources have said that none of the recommendations in Johnson's "Great Society" program will be spectacularly costly, at least in the first year.

Some increases in government spending are inevitable because of legally fixed outlays for such things as veterans benefits, interest on the debt and government pay raises.

There are indications Johnson may balance these by moving against such programs as space and atomic energy, cutting out unneeded installations and programs of lesser priority.

Work on the budget has to be completed by New Year's Day because it has to go to the printers then to be ready for Congress 15 days after the new session opens Jan. 4.

Johnson, accompanied by Mrs. Johnson and their 17-year-old daughter, Luci Baines, and the various government officials, arrived at Bergstrom Air Force Base near Austin Sunday after a flight of just under three hours from Andrews Air Force Base near Washington. From Bergstrom all except Luci flew by helicopter the 65 miles to the Johnson ranch. Luci got in some visiting with friends before driving to the ranch in company of a Secret Service agent.

The elder Johnson daughter, Lynda Bird, 20, has classes at George Washington University until Wednesday.

Unusual Newspaper War Erupts In Miami

MIAMI (AP) — An unusual newspaper war has erupted in Miami's divided exile colony.

Followers of ex - President Fulgencio Batista, who was ousted in 1959 by Fidel Castro, have long published a free weekly newspaper called Patria (Fatherland). It criticizes exiles who fought for Castro against Batista and later left Castro.

Now a rival giveaway called Replica (Reply) is being published.

Stacks of both weeklies are offered to exile business places. Some refuse one or the other, according to political belief. Some play it safe and refuse both. Many make both available to customers. Sometimes partisans of one or the other group round up the rival papers and burn them.

Hamsters originated in Syria.

LISBON — Cities and villages in Columbiana County will share a total of $14,996 from the final gasoline tax distribution of the year, State Auditor Chester W. Goble said today in Columbus. Statewide, the funds will be distributed to 957 communities.

The payment will bring to over $25 million the amount distributed to the smaller subdivisions this year for highway purposes.

Unusual Newspaper War Erupts In Miami

MIAMI (AP) — An unusual newspaper war has erupted in Miami's divided exile colony.

Followers of ex - President Fulgencio Batista, who was ousted in 1959 by Fidel Castro, have long published a free weekly newspaper called Patria (Fatherland). It criticizes exiles who fought for Castro against Batista and later left Castro.

Now a rival giveaway called Replica (Reply) is being published.

Stacks of both weeklies are offered to exile business places. Some refuse one or the other, according to political belief. Some play it safe and refuse both. Many make both available to customers. Sometimes partisans of one or the other group round up the rival papers and burn them.

Hamsters originated in Syria.

$14,996 Due In Taxes

LISBON — Cities and villages in Columbiana County will share a total of $14,996 from the final gasoline tax distribution of the year, State Auditor Chester W. Goble said today in Columbus. Statewide, the funds will be distributed to 957 communities. The payment will bring to over $25 million the amount distributed to the smaller subdivisions this year for highway purposes.

Most Crews Stay On Job In Dock Talks

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) — Renewed threats of a dock strike from Maine to Texas eased but did not entirely abate today as contract talks continued and most longshoremen stayed on the job.

Nearly 100 members of the International Longshoremen's Association walked out in New York harbor Sunday night. An ILA official said it was a wildcat strike.

Negotiators for shippers and the Gulf and South Atlantic District of the ILA indicated they would keep on trying to work out a contract agreement here.

Longshoremen will continue working on a day-to-day basis, District President Ralph A. Massey said, while negotiations are in progress.

Massey said the union could order dock workers to leave their jobs at any time and there remained a strong possibility of a strike which would paralyze shipping on the Gulf Coast and the Eastern Seaboard.

ILA leaders and the New York Shippers Association agreed on a new contract last week. Their pact normally sets the pattern for other districts.

Negotiations broke down in Galveston temporarily Saturday, however, with the size of work gangs apparently a major stumbling block. Dock workers want a minimum 18-man gang. Another topic listed for discussion was payment of wage boosts retroactive to Oct. 1, when the West Gulf area contract expired.

400 Children Treated

SALINEVILLE — Some 400 youngsters were treated in the annual Salineville firemen's Christmas fete Saturday at the fire station. Santa Claus rode to the fire station on the fire truck.

4 Of Hancock Hurt In Crash

A Chester girl and three other persons were injured in a car-truck accident Saturday at 12:30 p.m. on Gas Valley Rd. near the Oak Glen School, according to the Hancock County sheriff's office.

Sheriff Joseph Manypenny said a car driven by Judith Lynn Riffle, 22, of Pyramus Ave., Chester, slid into the rear of a half-ton pickup truck driven by James H. Todd, 19, of Hookstown R.D. 1.

The sheriff said the car slid on ice at the foot of a hill. She suffered a cut lip and bruises of the face. A passenger in her car, Karen Crawford, 19, of New Cumberland R.D. 1, had neck injuries. They were taken to Weirton General Hospital for treatment.

Todd and a passenger, James Schmidt, 20, of Georgetown suffered minor injuries but did not require treatment.

A Pittsburgh area youth was injured in a one-car crash Sunday at 12:15 a.m. at the intersection of Routes 2 and 30.

Deputies said Kenneth Sullivan, 18, of Coraopolis was turning from Route 30 onto Route 2 when he lost control and went into a nearby field.

A passenger, Michael B. Moss, 18, of Pittsburgh suffered lacerations of the left hip. Damage to the car was minor.

State Board Of Education Poses Another Problem

By WILLIAM S. VANCE
Review Staff Correspondent

COLUMBUS, Ohio — In the scramble to realign Ohio's congressional districts, the 105th General Assembly ignored an interrelated problem applying to the State Board of Education.

One state school board member is elected from each of the 23 existing congressional districts. The legislature, in creating a 24th district and revising the other 23, did not touch the section of law governing election of state board members.

Unless that law is changed, the old congressional districts will remain in effect as state school board districts.

New Districts in '66

Congressional candidates will begin running from the new districts in the May 1966 primaries. The first state school board election after that will be November 1967.

One-third of the board members are elected to six-year terms every two years.

Legislators closely involved in congressional redistricting during the special session here say the matter of state school board districts probably will be taken up in the 106th General Assembly which convenes Jan. 4.

Rep. Charles F. Kurfess, R-Wood, chairman of the House Elections - Federal Relations Committee, said the legislature could leave the state school board districts as they are.

Could Be Vulnerable

But he was quick to point out that this system could be subjected to legitimate attack under the U.S. Supreme Court decisions which forced congressional redistricting and reapportionment of the Ohio House.

The court held state and U.S. representatives must be elected from districts as nearly equal in population as practicable.

Kurfess and House Majority Whip Harry Jump, R-Huron, said they are certain provisions would be made for letting incumbent board members finish their terms in the event districts are changed. Some, who were elected in 1963, will serve until the end of 1969.

Expects No Change

W. D. Darling, assistant superintendent of public instruction, said he has heard nothing that would indicate a desire to change the present method of electing state board members.

State law provides for election of 23 members, one from each congressional district according to the districting plan in effect Jan. 1, 1955. Darling said the Department of Education has taken no official position on changing that setup.

The matter of state school board representation has been a touchy subject since the board was formed nearly 10 years ago. If a change is proposed in the next legislative session, some fireworks could be expected.

Proposed In 1953

The first plan for organization of the State Board of Education was recommended by a legislative study committee in 1953. It proposed letting the governor appoint a nine-member board for staggered six-year terms.

The proposal was introduced in the House in 1955. The House amended it, calling for election of the nine members from the nine appellate court districts existing at that time.

But appeals court districts were considered too large and the House bill was amended again in the Senate to provide for election by congressional districts.

But this method also has come under fire, from several sources, including the League of Women Voters, who consider a 23-member board too large and unwieldy.

Appointment Idea Fails

In 1957, a bill was introduced in the legislature to abolish the 23-member board and supplant it with a nine-member board appointed by the governor.

But Republican lawmakers here, who were in the majority in 1957, recall that the bill was introduced with Democratic sponsorship and never was given serious consideration.

Most of the members who served on the House-Senate redistricting conference committee in this session admitted they never gave thought to school board representation when they were deliberating congressional districts.

But Kurfess, who also headed a redistricting study committee prior to this session, said he had considered it briefly.

"I figured we had enough problems with a bill of this kind in a special session," he said, "so I dismissed the idea of bringing the school board into it.

"We'll have plenty of time to take it up in the regular session," he said, "although we could be opening a real Pandora's box if we do."

W. Angie Smith, the Mecom company's foreign representative, left Houston for Cairo Sunday. Mecom, a multimillionaire Houston oil man, was reported to be "in a highly nervous and upset state" in Houston.

Mecom earlier this year signed a 40-year contract giving him oil wildcatting rights in all of Jordan. He is a close friend of King Hussein, and the young monarch visited him in Houston after they signed the contract.

Pumper trucks from the Central and North Side station responded to put out the blaze in the auto and the flaming gasoline spread over the street. A booster line was used. Th firemen also disconnected the battery on the Wilkinson car.

Oliver is scheduled for a Municipal Court hearing Wednesday morning.

The 1964 two-door hardtop was driven by Emmanuel R. Green, 36, of 1625 Pennsylvania Ave., officers said. The rear end, both rear fenders and the left door were damaged.

Green told officers the pavement was slippery and the car went out of control as he rounded the turn.

A backing auto damaged shingles on the corner of the home of Alfred P. Wright, 419 Sugar St., in a minor mishap about 9:31 a. m. Saturday, police said. Mrs. Wright told police the driver agreed to take care of the damage. She gave officers a description of the car but the driver was unidentified.

The Los Angeles Angels will play nine exhibition games in a tour of Mexico between March 12 and 21 next spring.

Skating To Continue At Site In City Park

Free ice skating at Thompson Park will continue as long as the weather permits, Mayor Merrill D. Hall said today.

About 50 skaters took to the ice Sunday in the main pavilion at the park, the mayor said. The park was opened Saturday after the floor of the pavilion was flooded.

Because school has been dismissed, the skating hours will be from 1 to 5 and 6 to 9 p.m., Mayor Hall said.

'Happy And Gay'

LEVITTOWN, Pa. (AP) — "Hello, I'm Barbara."

The voice was that of Barbara Schaefer, 10, one of seven orphaned sisters.

How did she feel?

"Fine."

What did she want for Christmas?

"A game, Crazy Clocks."

The seven girls are happy and gay, excited about Christmas.

Eleanor, 12, the oldest, summed it up:

"There's a lot of anticipation for Christmas. Everyone is so excited. I want mostly clothes."

Linda, 11, wants clothes and a game, "or something like that."

Marie, 8, is wishing for a toy, Thimble City.

Janice, who was 7 Sunday, got a sewing set, color book and game for her birthday. For Christmas, her No. 1 choice is toy dishes.

Pamela, 5, is hoping for a toy dog. The youngest, Georgette, 3, wants a real one.

"Let me say this," said the children's aunt, Liz Schaefer, 25. "We're prepared for Christmas. I hope and pray it is a merry Christmas for them."

Liz — the kids call her Buff — and her mother, Kate Schaefer, 67, have been caring for six of the girls since June 1961, when their father, George Schaefer, was killed in an auto accident. Three months earlier, their mother had died shortly after giving birth to Georgette. Georgette lives with an aunt and uncle in Philadelphia.

The girls are growing up nicely, said Liz.

"The sad part is over," she added. "Write something happy and gay because that's the way they are and that's the way I want people to see them."

A Foggy Day

A foggy day in London town sounds romantic to songwriters, but it can be dangerous. Mist mingling with polluted air turns into a throat-rasping killer.

Because London is located on the estuary of a tidal river near the humid Essex marshes, it always has had the type of soupy fogs that have been plaguing the eastern United States, the National Geographic Society says.

Yellow, sulfurous vapor contributed to the deaths of some 4,000 Londoners in the winter of 1952. Smoke-control laws are credited with dramatically reducing the death toll from a similar heavy fog 10 years later.

The 1962 fog, however, created a monumental traffic snarl and some unusual problems. Two men, their faces covered, walked into a London bank and stole $28,000 at gunpoint. "We took no notice of them, assuming they were wearing smog masks," said a customer.

Generations of writers have made London fogs famous. In the opening passage of "A Christmas Carol," Charles Dickens describes "fog. . .pouring in at every chink and keyhole." The clip-clop of a horse pulling a hansom through the haze heralded the visit of many a mysterious client to Sherlock Holmes.

Sixty years ago, when railroads and the horse were the chief means of transportation, the average traveler covered only about 500 miles a year. Today, with the airplane and family car, the average has risen to about 5,000 miles.

Computers Hit Record

CHICAGO (AP) — Computers in U. S. government offices have reached an all - time high with an estimated $1.1 billion expenditure for this item.

According to Commerce Clearing House, the expenditure for 1964 represents an increase of $321 million over last year.

More than one - half of the expenditures are made by the Defense Department.

Mike Ford of Omaha, Nebr., bid $57,000 for a Royal Charger-Levee yearling at the 1963 Saratoga Sales. He named him Royal Gunner and by November of 1964 the colt had won $128,640.

A Foggy Day

A foggy day in London town sounds romantic to songwriters, but it can be dangerous. Mist mingling with polluted air turns into a throat-rasping killer.

Because London is located on the estuary of a tidal river near the humid Essex marshes, it always has had the type of soupy fogs that have been plaguing the eastern United States, the National Geographic Society says.

Yellow, sulfurous vapor contributed to the deaths of some 4,000 Londoners in the winter of 1952. Smoke-control laws are credited with dramatically reducing the death toll from a similar heavy fog 10 years later.

The 1962 fog, however, created a monumental traffic snarl and some unusual problems. Two men, their faces covered, walked into a London bank and stole $28,000 at gunpoint. "We took no notice of them, assuming they were wearing smog masks," said a customer.

Generations of writers have made London fogs famous. In the opening passage of "A Christmas Carol," Charles Dickens describes "fog. . .pouring in at every chink and keyhole." The clip-clop of a horse pulling a hansom through the haze heralded the visit of many a mysterious client to Sherlock Holmes.

Sixty years ago, when railroads and the horse were the chief means of transportation, the average traveler covered only about 500 miles a year. Today, with the airplane and family car, the average has risen to about 5,000 miles.

Computers Hit Record

CHICAGO (AP) — Computers in U. S. government offices have reached an all - time high with an estimated $1.1 billion expenditure for this item.

According to Commerce Clearing House, the expenditure for 1964 represents an increase of $321 million over last year. More than one - half of the expenditures are made by the Defense Department.

Mike Ford of Omaha, Nebr., bid $57,000 for a Royal Charger-Levee yearling at the 1963 Saratoga Sales. He named him Royal Gunner and by November of 1964 the colt had won $128,640.

City Hospital Joins 'Blood Bank' Group

City Hospital is among the current membership of the American Association of Blood Banks, some 780 accredited hospitals and blood banks which met the standards of the AABB for drawing, storing and administering blood.

Dr. Oscar Hunter of Washington, chairman of the group's inspection committee, said each inspection requires at least four hours.

Currently 179 doctors — specialists in the transfusion field —serve as inspectors, volunteering their time and travel as a public service.

"The inspection process includes a careful survey of the blood bank's selection of healthy donors, proper collection of the blood under completely sterile conditions, and the detailed testing of the blood to identify blood groups and Rh types and to eliminate several possible transmissible diseases, as well as proper labeling.

"Of paramount importance is the review of crossmatching tests which are the final word to determine the safety of giving a specific unit of blood to a particular patient. Errors in this area could result in a severe reaction or even death."

Then AABB inspection program, the most thorough of its kind ever initiated, is "vitally important to donors, patients, physicians and all hospitals and blood banks," Dr. Hunter emphasized. Since it is a voluntary program, blood facilities request inspecton, which is open to all hospital, community and American Red Cross blood banks.

New York Store Has Direct Line To Santa

NEW YORK (AP) — Now parents are able to find out what their children want for Christmas without asking them.

A toy store here (F.A.O. Schwarz) has a telephone for the kiddies that connects "direct to Santa at the North Pole."

A recorded voice, interjecting many a "ho, ho, ho," talks to the children over the phone and ends up by telling them to write their names, addresses and the gifts they want on cards provided by the store. The store then mails the cards to their respective parents.

Burned Home Called 'One Of The Worst'

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — A state health official has termed the fire-struck Fountaintown Nursing Home, in which 20 elderly residents perished Friday, one of the "worst" of 62 Indiana nursing homes whose 1965 licenses are being held up by the state health facility licensing council.

Vance T. Koonce, executive director of the council, said after the fire that his investigator had recommended the McGraw Nursing Home should continue to operate only after reducing its patient load from 35 to 25.

Thirty-four patients were residents of the 60-year-old building when it was consumed by flames. It was the worst fire in the state's history.

Burned Home Called 'One Of The Worst'

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — A state health official has termed the fire-struck Fountaintown Nursing Home, in which 20 elderly residents perished Friday, one of the "worst" of 62 Indiana nursing homes whose 1965 licenses are being held up by the state health facility licensing council.

Vance T. Koonce, executive director of the council, said after the fire that his investigator had recommended the McGraw Nursing Home should continue to operate only after reducing its patient load from 35 to 25.

Thirty-four patients were residents of the 60-year-old building when it was consumed by flames. It was the worst fire in the state's history.

Kentucky Crash Kills Infant Of Ohio Family

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—An infant was killed near here Sunday in a highway accident that left his parents and two of their other children injured.

Rickey Wherry, aged 14 months, died in the crash. His parents, Navy Lt. and Mrs. Robert J. Wherry, were listed in satisfactory condition. Two other children suffered minor injuries. The two-car crash occurred about 15 miles east of here. Wherry has been stationed at Pensacola, Fla., but the family reportedly was from Columbus, Ohio, and was en route there for the holidays.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Pamela, Offspring Stir Things Up

Hal Humphrey

The rest of the nation misses a great amount of unimportant, but fascinating information by not being able to tune in Pamela Mason on TV or radio.

She effuses over both media in Hollywood (and WOR - TV in New York) about almost everything, including the high cost of her recent divorce from actor James Mason.

Pamela and her sophisticated offspring, Portland (age 16) and Morgan (age 9), are just back from Paris where Morgan had to join Liz Taylor and Richard Burton and finish filming "Sandpiper."

-:-

"I THINK they're changing it to 'Flight of the Sandpiper' or some such," Pamela reports. "It's really 'Rain' done again, and they are trying to hide it by giving Sadie — that's Liz, of course — a son played by our little Morgan, who is turning into a monstrous ham, by the way."

Pameal estimates it cost her $10,000 to survive the eight weeks she and her two prodigies were in Paris. That sum included several trips to London.

"I had to go to London to tape my TV shows. There was only one tape machine in the whole of Paris, and an all-French crew. Really! And their TV is ghastly. All you see are endless commercials and De Gaulle. It's De Gaulle being cheered as he gets on a train, or into a car. I mean you have to really care," says Pamela.

"BUT, MOTHER, those were the shows. They don't have commercials on French TV," interrupts daughter Portland.

"Oh, really? Morgan thought they were commercials. I remember that girl and boy singing in a haystack, then dancing around and waving handfuls of straw. You mean that was a love affair, and they weren't selling straw?" Pamela asks Portland.

In addition to taping her American TV show in London, Pamela appeared as a guest on several British TV programs and found the experience exhilarating but exhausting.

"They pick you up at your hotel in a beautifully long car an hour before you're needed and rush you to a hospitality room at the studio where you are served drinks.

-:-

"BY THE TIME you go on the air you are thoroughly smashed. Imagine something like that happening here at an American studio!

"England is turning into a nation of drunks and plunging necklines," Pamela adds. "When I turned up in a gown quite normally cut around the neck, everyone stared."

Pamela still managed to "cause a certain amount of stir," as she puts it. On a program similar to our "Tonight" show, Eammon Andrew, the host, asked about Portland, and Morgan's acting careers. After describing their activites, Pamela casually said, "Yes, I've got them off to work finally and about time, too."

Apparently her own former countrymen take Pamela more seriously than we do here, and the crack about her children stimulated a barrage of uncomplimentary phone calls and letters.

-:-

"THE PRESS in London got on me, too," says Pamela, quite unperturbed. "One newspaper headlined a picture of me and the kids in our hotel room as 'Life Without Father' and showed me holding a martini glass.

"Well, of course, we all looked terribly forlorn. But I wasn't stoned, as I appeared in that picture. I was frozen, because there was no heat in our hotel. Anyone looks lonely when he's cold."

It's nice to have Pamela and her simple little brood back in their nest in Beverly Hills.

More Rights Disturbances Are Expected Next Summer

WASHINGTON (AP) — LeRoy Collins, director of the Community Relations Service, expects more civil rights disturbances next summer — both in the North and South — despite his agency's efforts to encourage communities to eliminate sources of unrest.

Racial problems in the North, said Collins, who heads the conciliation service created by the 1964 Civil Rights Act, are far more complex than they are in the South.

Ghettos based on long-standing discrimination, Collins said, make solutions enormously difficult and complex.

Collins was interviewed Sunday on CBS' radio and television show "Face the Nation."

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Securities and Exchange Commission says savings by individuals rose to a postwar record of $8.3 billion during July, August and September. This was $700 million more than the second quarter total and $1.5 billion higher than the July-September period last year.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Atomic Energy Commission exploded another underground nuclear device at its Nevada test site in its efforts to develop excavation techniques which conceivably might be employed to build the proposed sea-level canal through Central America.

The announcement late Saturday said the Friday blast was equivalent to about 100 tons of TNT.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The number of Negroes holding high paying federal jobs has increased for the third year in a row.

The White House made public late Saturday in a minority census taken in June for the President's Committee on Equal Employment Opportunity which showed a 19.5 per cent increase — 32 persons — in the number of Negroes holding federal jobs paying from $10,250 to $24,500 yearly.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress will be asked next year to make it possible for the American public to view a film prepared as a memorial to the late President John F. Kennedy.

Sen. George S. McGovern, D-S.D., said Saturday he will introduce a "sense of Congress" resolution urging the U.S. Information Agency to arrange for distribution of the film through domestic educational media and commercial television.

The film, "John F. Kennedy — Years of Lightning, Day of Drums," was prepared for showing around the world. The agency has no authority to release it for domestic audiences.

Newark Air Base Set For Command Change

NEWARK, Ohio (AP) — The Newark Air Force Station, currently under the jurisdiction of the Middletown Air Materiel Area, Olmsted AFB, Pa., will become a part of the Air Force Logistic Command of Wright-Patterson AFB, Dayton, Ohio.

Officials who announced the change during the weekend said it stems from the recent Defense Department decisions to close some military installations.

Newark is manned by the 2862nd Inertial Guidance and Calibration Group which has responsibility for test and repair of inertial guidance systems of intercontinental ballistic missiles and advanced aircraft.

Coins Worth $1,343 Stolen From Woman

CLEVELAND (AP) — Three robbers forced their way into the home of an 85-year-old woman Sunday night, handcuffed and gagged her and stole $1,343 worth of coins from a collection.

The woman, Mrs. Rose Hegedus was found two hours after the robbers fled. Her wrists were cuffed behind her, and a towel and pillow case were tied around her face.

The coins were from a collection owned by the woman's son.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Pamela, Offspring Stir Things Up

The rest of the nation misses a great amount of unimportant, but fascinating information by not being able to tune in Pamela Mason on TV or radio.

Hal Humphrey

She effuses over both media in Hollywood (and WOR - TV in New York) about almost everything, including the high cost of her recent divorce from actor James Mason.

Pamela and her sophisticated offspring, Portland (age 16) and Morgan (age 9), are just back from Paris where Morgan had to join Liz Taylor and Richard Burton and finish filming "Sandpiper."

-:-

"I THINK they're changing it to 'Flight of the Sandpiper' or some such," Pamela reports. "It's really 'Rain' done again, and they are trying to hide it by giving Sadie — that's Liz, of course — a son played by our little Morgan, who is turning into a monstrous ham, by the way."

Pameal estimates it cost her $10,000 to survive the eight weeks she and her two prodigies were in Paris. That sum included several trips to London.

"I had to go to London to tape my TV shows. There was only one tape machine in the whole of Paris, and an all-French crew. Really! And their TV is ghastly. All you see are endless commercials and De Gaulle. It's De Gaulle being cheered as he gets on a train, or into a car. I mean you have to really care," says Pamela.

"BUT, MOTHER, those were the shows. They don't have commercials on French TV," interrupts daughter Portland.

"Oh, really?" Morgan thought they were commercials. I remember that girl and boy singing in a haystack, then dancing around and waving handfuls of straw. You mean that was a love affair, and they weren't selling straw?" Pamela asks Portland.

In addition to taping her American TV show in London, Pamela appeared as a guest on several British TV programs and found the experience exhilarating but exhausting.

"They pick you up at your hotel in a beautifully long car an hour before you're needed and rush you to a hospitality room at the studio where you are served drinks.

-:-

"BY THE TIME you go on the air you are thoroughly smashed. Imagine something like that happening here at an American studio!

"England is turning into a nation of drunks and plunging necklines," Pamela adds. "When I turned up in a gown quite normally cut around the neck, everyone stared."

Pamela still managed to "cause a certain amount of stir," as she puts it. On a program similar to our "Tonight" show, Eammon Andrew, the host, asked about Portland, and Morgan's acting careers. After describing their activites, Pamela casually said, "Yes, I've got them off to work finally and about time, too."

Apparently her own former countrymen take Pamela more seriously than we do here, and the crack about her children stimulated a barrage of uncomplimentary phone calls and letters.

-:-

"THE PRESS in London got on me, too," says Pamela, quite unperturbed. "One newspaper headlined a picture of me and the kids in our hotel room as 'Life Without Father' and showed me holding a martini glass.

"Well, of course, we all looked terribly forlorn. But I wasn't stoned, as I appeared in that picture. I was frozen, because there was no heat in our hotel. Anyone looks lonely when he's cold."

It's nice to have Pamela and her simple little brood back in their nest in Beverly Hills.

Potters Trip Tigers, 89-67, End 3 Game Losing Streak

Lawrence Nets 22 Points, Paces ELHS To 1st Win; Massillon Invades

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

Aroused by a Wellsville rally that pushed the Tigers in front midway through the third period, the East Liverpool Potters bounced back to smother their opponents in the final eight minutes and register an 89-67 victory over their arch rival Saturday night.

A good crowd of some 1,400 was on hand at Memorial Auditorium as the Potters gained the victory column for the first time in four starts. Wellsville dropped its fourth contest against one victory.

—:—

BOTH CLUBS turned in some sizzling shooting Saturday night, but the Potters had the last word in the final quarter.

Coach Frank Chan's club fired a red-hot 56 per cent in the final eight minutes, canning 14 of 25 attempts to build up the 22-point margin of victory.

The Potters had taken a 42-35 lead to the dressing room at halftime, after shooting 50 per cent in the first two periods.

—:—

WELLSVILLE came out in the second half gunning for its backyard rival by reeling off 12 straight points in a rally led by Jeff MacLean and Harry Thornton. By the time the blitz was over, the Potters were behind, 47-42.

Wellsville was still in front 49-44 until the Potters countered with nine markers in a row to go ahead, 53-49.

East Liverpool held the upper hand at 57-52 when the third period ended, then turned in its best eight minutes of the season.

In the fourth quarter the Potters scored 32 points with deadly accuracy, while the Tigers produced 15.

THE FIRST quarter turned into a shooting exhibition featuring Terry Lawrence and Joe Massey of the Potters and Wellsville's Dick Call.

All three cagers were deadly, with Lawrence thrilling the crowd with his uncanny shooting from the corner. The 6-4 cager hit on six straight one-handers from the side before he missed his seventh attempt in the first quarter.

Lawrence, who drew a standing ovation when he fouled out in the fourth quarter, wound up with the biggest night of his career, garnering 22 points. His total came from the field as he took 19 shots and canned 11.

—:—

WHILE Lawrence scored 12 points in the opening stanza, Massey, hitting from outside, dropped in four in a row for eight points. Between the two, the Potters pulled on top, 27-19, at the end of the first quarter.

Keeping Wellsville in the running during the first period was Call, a 5-11 forward, who hit on five of six shots in the quarter and wound up with 11 of his team's 19 points during that frame.

Harry Thornton took scoring honors for the Tigers. The smallest player on the floor at 5-8, Thornton fired in eight field goals and five of seven fouls for 21 points.

He was most effective in the second and third periods. Scoring eight points in the second quarter, Thornton kept the Tigers within striking distance of the Potters.

—:—

CALL followed Thornton with 18 points, while MacLean dropped in 14. It was MacLean's three straight field goals early in the third quarter that put Wellsville in front.

Chan must have been impressed by the balance of the Potter scoring, which showed five cagers in the double figures.

Behind Lawrence was Ben Springer, the Potters newly-acquired 6-5 center, who found the range for 17 points. Springer and Bob Maltarich led the fourth-quarter attack with eight points each. Springer made 6 of 18 shots.

—:—

MASSEY turned in his second good night of scoring, hitting for 15 points, while Maltarich scored 14. Twelve of those came in the second half. Maltarich made his shots count in the last two periods, hitting on 6 out of 8.

Ron Kinsey joined the double figure club with 12 points, including nine in the second half. Kinsey also turned in a good floor game through the last two quarters.

Frank Taylor added nine points to round out the scoring and was a big factor in the rebounding department for the Potters.

East Liverpool turned in its best shooting mark of the season with 38 of 80 for 47 per cent, while the Tigers made 27 of 66 for 40 per cent.

The Potters will return to action Tuesday night at Memorial Auditorium facing Massillon in a Big 8 Conference game.

Midland Tops Big Red With Fouls, 62-52

STEUBENVILLE—Midland was put to its stiffest test of the season but went to the foul line to preserve its unbeaten streak with a 62-52 victory over Steubenville Big Red Saturday night in the Community Arena before a sparse crowd of 986 fans.

Coach Hank Kuzma's forces, which have won six straight, found themselves tied at 27-27 at halftime but accuracy from the foul line proved the difference.

A good third quarter by the Leopards spelled out the victory as Midland outscored Steubenville, 20-11, in that stanza to carry a 47-38 lead into the final period.

Sim Hill, Midland's 6-6 center, saved his best performance so far this season for the toughest game. Hill poured in 29 points on 10 field goals and 9 of 12 fouls.

Big Red showed a 21-18 edge in field goals but Hill and Ron Brown spent most of the evening at the foul line to give the Leopards a big edge in this department.

Midland made 26 of 32 foul attempts while Big Red showed 10 of 13.

★ ★ ★ Hill Pours In 29 For Sixth Win ★ ★ ★

Brown scored twice from the field but made 10 of 12 fouls. Norm VanLier added 11 points for the Leopards including five of six from the free throw line.

Midland only held a 14-13 edge at the end of the first period. Hill scored 10 of Midland's 13 points in the second quarter as the two teams reached halftime deadlocked at 27-27.

In the third period, Brown dropped in 8 of 10 fouls and Hill added 7 points to give the Leopards their 47-38 lead at the end of the quarter.

Brown broke the halftime tie with a foul and Brent Lake followed with a field goal to push Midland in front, 30-27.

The Leopards never lost the lead but midway in the third period Milton McIntyre connected to bring Big Red within two points, 37-35.

At this point Brown hit on three straight fouls and Hill added a bucket to push Midland back on top, 42-35. A field goal by Hill and two more fouls by Brown boosted the Leopard lead at the end of the period.

McIntyre led three Big Red starters into the double figures, scoring 14 points while Mark Alberts added 12 and Harry Reynolds 11.

Midland was off its shooting mark Saturday netting 18 goals in 59 attempst for a cool 30 per cent while Steubenville showed 21 of 53 for 39 per cent.

The Leopards return to action Tuesday playing host to Coraopolis.

Midland's reserve forces defeated Big Red in the preliminary contest, 34-23.

Potters Trip Tigers, 89-67, End 3 Game Losing Streak

Lawrence Nets 22 Points, Paces ELHS To 1st Win; Massillon Invades

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

Aroused by a Wellsville rally that pushed the Tigers in front midway through the third period, the East Liverpool Potters bounced back to smother their opponents in the final eight minutes and register an 89-67 victory over their arch rival Saturday night.

A good crowd of some 1,400 was on hand at Memorial Auditorium as the Potters gained the victory column for the first time in four starts. Wellsville dropped its fourth contest against one victory.

BOTH CLUBS turned in some sizzling shooting Saturday night, but the Potters had the last word in the final quarter.

Coach Frank Chan's club fired a red-hot 56 per cent in the final eight minutes, canning 14 of 25 attempts to build up the 22-point margin of victory.

The Potters had taken a 42-35 lead to the dressing room at halftime, after shooting 50 per cent in the first two periods.

—:—

WELLSVILLE came out in the second half gunning for its backyard rival by reeling off 12 straight points in a rally led by Jeff MacLean and Harry Thornton. By the time the blitz was over, the Potters were behind, 47-42.

Wellsville was still in front 49-44 until the Potters countered with nine markers in a row to go ahead, 53-49.

East Liverpool held the upper hand at 57-52 when the third period ended, then turned in its best eight minutes of the season.

In the fourth quarter the Potters scored 32 points with deadly accuracy, while the Tigers produced 15.

THE FIRST quarter turned into a shooting exhibition featuring Terry Lawrence and Joe Massey of the Potters and Wellsville's Dick Call.

All three cagers were deadly, with Lawrence thrilling the crowd with his uncanny shooting from the corner. The 6-4 cager hit on six straight one-handers from the side before he missed his seventh attempt in the first quarter.

Lawrence, who drew a standing ovation when he fouled out in the fourth quarter, wound up with the biggest night of his career, garnering 22 points. His total came from the field as he took 19 shots and canned 11.

WHILE Lawrence scored 12 points in the opening stanza, Massey, hitting from outside, dropped in four in a row for eight points. Between the two, the Potters pulled on top, 27-19, at the end of the first quarter.

Keeping Wellsville in the running during the first period was Call, a 5-11 forward, who hit on five of six shots in the quarter and wound up with 11 of his team's 19 points during that frame.

Harry Thornton took scoring honors for the Tigers. The smallest player on the floor at 5-8, Thornton fired in eight field goals and five of seven fouls for 21 points.

He was most effective in the second and third periods. Scoring eight points in the second quarter, Thornton kept the Tigers within striking distance of the Potters.

—:—

CALL followed Thornton with 18 points, while MacLean dropped in 14. It was MacLean's three straight field goals early in the third quarter that put Wellsville in front.

Chan must have been impressed by the balance of the Potter scoring, which showed five cagers in the double figures.

Behind Lawrence was Ben Springer, the Potters newly-acquired 6-5 center, who found the range for 17 points. Springer and Bob Maltarich led the fourth-quarter attack with eight points each. Springer made 6 of 18 shots.

—:—

MASSEY turned in his second good night of scoring, hitting for 15 points, while Maltarich scored 14. Twelve of those came in the second half. Maltarich made his shots count in the last two periods, hitting on 6 out of 8.

Ron Kinsey joined the double figure club with 12 points, including nine in the second half. Kinsey also turned in a good floor game through the last two quarters.

Frank Taylor added nine points to round out the scoring and was a big factor in the rebounding department for the Potters.

East Liverpool turned in its best shooting mark of the season with 38 of 80 for 47 per cent, while the Tigers made 27 of 66 for 40 per cent.

The Potters will return to action Tuesday night at Memorial Auditorium facing Massillon in a Big 8 Conference game.

Buffalo, San Diego Meet In Playoff For AFL Title

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The hard facts from the statistics sheets and a quick review of recent history would point to a Buffalo victory over San Diego next Saturday in the American Football League's title game.

But it's those pesky, unpredictable intangibles that have a way of turning things around and make it impossible to answer these questions until Saturday afternoon in Buffalo:

Will Buffalo's momentum, plus the lift fo the Eastern Division - clinching 24-14 dceision over Boston Sunday be enough to carry the Bills to their first title in the five-year history of the league?

Or will defending champion San Diego be able to shake off the disturbing effect of two straight losses, including a 21-20 upset at the hands of Oakland, and nail down a second straight title?

San Diego Coach Sid Gilman tends to discount the intangible and stick to hard facts.

"We played Buffalo two times and they beat us two times," he said after Sunday's unpleasant surprise by Oakland. "In the first game we didn't have any of our big guns and took a good beating. The second time we had them all, but we lost because we gave the game away.

"We'll try to contain Cookie Gilchrist the best we know how. If we don't, they'll beat us."

Buffalo won both regular-season meetings between the two contenders, 30-3 and 27-24. Buffalo has a 12-2 record, San Diego 8-5-1.

In addition to the key games involving Buffalo and San Diego, the other regular-season finals saw Kansas City clip New York 24-7 and Houston beat Denver 34-15.

Jack Kemp was the prime mover for the Bills against the Patriots as a swirling snow storm and Boston's line contained the rush of Gilchrist and Wray Carlton.

Kemp opened with a 57-yard scoring pass to Elbert Dubenion and sneaked across for the other two himself, after setting them up with passes.

Boston's lone chance to get back into the frosty game came in the first period when a Babe Parilli pass to Tony Romeo went 37 yards for a touchdown, but a two-point try for conversion failed. That made it 7-6 Buffalo, and the Bills had a 17-7 halftime mragin on a Kemp sneak and Pete Gogolak's 12-yard field goal.

"This was the big one for us," Buffalo defensive back George Saimes said. "We're over the hump now and we'll take San Diego. We had this mental block about not beating Boston."

Ole Miss Coach Upset After Loss To Tulsa

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Jerry Rhome and an unexpectedly tough Tulsa defense exploded Mississippi's favored spot in the Bluebonnet Bowl.

But the 14-7 Tulsa victory led to some sharp criticism of the Ole Miss Rebels.

While the passing whiz wiped out Mississippi — which had been an 11-point favorite — Rebel Coach Johnny Vaught's postgame actions ired sports writers.

Vaught, a Texas Christian University graduate and long a favorite among Texas football fans, initially was upset by two late fourth-quarter rulings by the officials.

Then he apparently was ired at having lost the game, the eighth consecutive bowl game for the Rebels.

He kept a group of impatient sports writers waiting in 39-degree cold for a half-hour after the game. They had to wait until all the players had filed out the door.

In his Monday column, Houston Post Sports Editor Mickey Herskowitz described the Bluebonnet Bowl a perfect one except for Ole Miss manners.

"(At Mississippi) football is played for blood and money, and they don't let you forget it," Herskowitz wrote.

"Ole Miss came to Houston aware that it had just two obligations to the Bluebonnet Bowl. To have 11 bodies on the field at 2:30 Saturday and to send someone around after the game to the cashier's window to pick up their check."

Mississippi had given Tulsa's national pass champion Rhome a rough time in the early stages — he was thrown for losses eight times — but he scored the tying touchdown in the second quarter and won the game with a 35-yard pass to Eddie Fletcher in the third period.

He said the football program will continue along the lines established by Perry. He added that "all our current staff members will be retained with my replacement the only new appointment."

Buffalo, San Diego Meet In Playoff For AFL Title

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The hard facts from the statistics sheets and a quick review of recent history would point to a Buffalo victory over San Diego next Saturday in the American Football League's title game.

But it's those pesky, unpredictable intangibles that have a way of turning things around and make it impossible to answer these questions until Saturday afternoon in Buffalo:

Will Buffalo's momentum, plus the lift fo the Eastern Division - clinching 24-14 dceision over Boston Sunday be enough to carry the Bills to their first title in the five-year history of the league?

Or will defending champion San Diego be able to shake off the disturbing effect of two straight losses, including a 21-20 upset at the hands of Oakland, and nail down a second straight title?

San Diego Coach Sid Gilman tends to discount the intangible and stick to hard facts.

"We played Buffalo two times and they beat us two times," he said after Sunday's unpleasant surprise by Oakland. "In the first game we didn't have any of our big guns and took a good beating. The second time we had them all, but we lost because we gave the game away.

"We'll try to contain Cookie Gilchrist the best we know how. If we don't, they'll beat us."

Buffalo won both regular-season meetings between the two contenders, 30-3 and 27-24. Buffalo has a 12-2 record, San Diego 8-5-1.

In addition to the key games involving Buffalo and San Diego, the other regular-season finals saw Kansas City clip New York 24-7 and Houston beat Denver 34-15.

Jack Kemp was the prime mover for the Bills against the Patriots as a swirling snow storm and Boston's line contained the rush of Gilchrist and Wray Carlton.

Kemp opened with a 57-yard scoring pass to Elbert Dubenion and sneaked across for the other two himself, after setting them up with passes.

Boston's lone chance to get back into the frosty game came in the first period when a Babe Parilli pass to Tony Romeo went 37 yards for a touchdown, but a two-point try for conversion failed. That made it 7-6 Buffalo, and the Bills had a 17-7 halftime mragin on a Kemp sneak and Pete Gogolak's 12-yard field goal.

"This was the big one for us," Buffalo defensive back George Saimes said. "We're over the hump now and we'll take San Diego. We had this mental block about not beating Boston."

Potter Subs Down Tigers For 1st Win

The East Liverpool reserves snapped a three-game losing streak by rolling to a 63-46 victory over the Wellsville jayvees Saturday night at Memorial Auditorium.

Moving in front, 20-10, at the first quarter mark, the Potters were never headed. By halftime, ELHS showed a 40-20 advantage and maintained it through the third period which ended, 56-36.

Mike McFarlane with 13 points led the scoring while Darryl Herring added 10. In all, twelve Potters shared in the scoring for Coach Bob Dawson's team.

Weekley dropped in 13 points to take honors for the Tiger subs.

Quell Hunger With Protein Pickups

Do you get ravenously hungry in the mid - afternoon and late evening? A young mother, who finds it rough going at these two periods, asks for help.

Ida Jean Kain

"Why am I gaining weight at such an alarming rate? I am up to 170 pounds and being forced into a size 18. Four months ago I had a beautiful son. I began nursing him and gained 15 pounds in three months. Now that I have stopped nursing him I have tried desperately to go back to my former weight. My will power isn't the best. The worst times for me are mid-afternoon and late evening. Truly I am at my wits end!"

—:—

INTENSE hunger is not pleasant, so first let's deal with the two trying periods, mid-afternoon and late evening. With some persons the blood sugar drops far below the normal level a couple of hours after eating. The result is excessive hunger and a feeling of faintness. If this is true functional hypoglycemia, the doctor will prescribe a special high - protein, low - carbohydrate diet.

On low carbohydrate you stop the powerful stimulus to insulin secretion that is creating the condition and eliminate the excessive feeling of hunger.

It is an excellent plan to have a protein pickup at these "low" periods, for protein provides energy at an even rate. It takes the body several hours to convert half its protein into glucose. And during this time you feel satisfied. Furthermore, protein makes important contributions to the diet, for it is the essential nutrient in building and repair.

So, whether your hunger at these periods is habit, or functional, a balanced diet high in protein and low in carbohydrate will meet your need. The mid - afternoon and late evening pickup might well be a protein food.

Take your choice. Milk or buttermilk, a hard - cooked egg, a two - ounce portion of left-over lean meat or an ounce wedge of cheese. The pickups at these two periods should not exceed 125 calories each.

WHEN THE nursing period is over it is difficult to reduce because you then use fewer calories. To lose weight, total calories must be under your daily requirements.

One young mother solved her weight problem by walking a full hour a day, pushing the baby carriage. On returning home in the afternoon, she had a protein pickup. By cutting ahead of hunger, she did not crave to overeat at the evening meal.

Instead of having dinner dessert, she saved 100 calories to have as a bedtime snack. But no sweets. In a few months this new mother was down to ideal weight.

Eskimos Get Cavities Like Anyone Else Now

EDMONTON, Alta. (AP) — Eskimos, apparently, once needed dentists like a hole in the head.

Now they get cavities like everyone else. Dr. C. H. Carley, a senior federal government dental officer, said that the Eskimo once existed on a high-protein, low - carbohydrate diet. His teeth rarely decayed. But now, many Eskimos eat the same refined high - carbohydrate foods as other Canadians —and they're paying for it in cavities.

Dr. Carley is one of six dentists employed by the federal Health and Welfare Department to work in the vast area of northern Alberta, the Yukon and the Mackenzie District of the Northwest Territories.

The longest bird feathers, according to one source, are those of the Japanese cockbird, whose tail coverts measure as much as 24 feet in length.

House Never A Home Will Be Dismantled

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—A house that never served as a home since it was built in 1938 will soon be dismantled.

The two - story home is a pioneering prefabricated structure built by the U.S. Forest Products Laboratory adjacent to the research center's property here. Plywood covers were glued to a lumber framework, a revolutionary process 27 years ago. The concept has been widely adopted by the prefabricated home industry for assembly line production of panelized house parts.

Laboratory staff members have used the house as an office for much of its existence.

The house, described as in excellent condition, will be dismantled to make room for a $4 million addition to the laboratory.

There are four compartments in a cow's stomch.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Quell Hunger With Protein Pickups

Do you get ravenously hungry in the mid - afternoon and late evening? A young mother, who finds it rough going at these two periods, asks for help.

Ida Jean Kain

"Why am I gaining weight at such an alarming rate? I am up to 170 pounds and being forced into a size 18. Four months ago I had a beautiful son. I began nursing him and gained 15 pounds in three months. Now that I have stopped nursing him I have tried desperately to go back to my former weight. My will power isn't the best. The worst times for me are mid-afternoon and late evening. Truly I am at my wits end!"

—:—

INTENSE hunger is not pleasant, so first let's deal with the two trying periods, mid-afternoon and late evening. With some persons the blood sugar drops far below the normal level a couple of hours after eating. The result is excessive hunger and a feeling of faintness. If this is true functional hypoglycemia, the doctor will prescribe a special high - protein, low - carbohydrate diet.

On low carbohydrate you stop the powerful stimulus to insulin secretion that is creating the condition and eliminate the excessive feeling of hunger.

It is an excellent plan to have a protein pickup at these "low" periods, for protein provides energy at an even rate. It takes the body several hours to convert half its protein into glucose. And during this time you feel satisfied. Furthermore, protein makes important contributions to the diet, for it is the essential nutrient in building and repair.

So, whether your hunger at these periods is habit, or functional, a balanced diet high in protein and low in carbohydrate will meet your need. The mid - afternoon and late evening pickup might well be a protein food.

Take your choice. Milk or buttermilk, a hard - cooked egg, a two - ounce portion of left-over lean meat or an ounce wedge of cheese. The pickups at these two periods should not exceed 125 calories each.

WHEN THE nursing period is over it is difficult to reduce because you then use fewer calories. To lose weight, total calories must be under your daily requirements.

One young mother solved her weight problem by walking a full hour a day, pushing the baby carriage. On returning home in the afternoon, she had a protein pickup. By cutting ahead of hunger, she did not crave to overeat at the evening meal.

Instead of having dinner dessert, she saved 100 calories to have as a bedtime snack. But no sweets. In a few months this new mother was down to ideal weight.

Eskimos Get Cavities Like Anyone Else Now

EDMONTON, Alta. (AP) — Eskimos, apparently, once needed dentists like a hole in the head.

Now they get cavities like everyone else. Dr. C. H. Carley, a senior federal government dental officer, said that the Eskimo once existed on a high-protein, low - carbohydrate diet. His teeth rarely decayed. But now, many Eskimos eat the same refined high - carbohydrate foods as other Canadians —and they're paying for it in cavities.

Dr. Carley is one of six dentists employed by the federal Health and Welfare Department to work in the vast area of northern Alberta, the Yukon and the Mackenzie District of the Northwest Territories.

The longest bird feathers, according to one source, are those of the Japanese cockbird, whose tail coverts measure as much as 24 feet in length.

House Never A Home Will Be Dismantled

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—A house that never served as a home since it was built in 1938 will soon be dismantled.

The two - story home is a pioneering prefabricated structure built by the U.S. Forest Products Laboratory adjacent to the research center's property here. Plywood covers were glued to a lumber framework, a revolutionary process 27 years ago. The concept has been widely adopted by the prefabricated home industry for assembly line production of panelized house parts.

Laboratory staff members have used the house as an office for much of its existence.

The house, described as in excellent condition, will be dismantled to make room for a $4 million addition to the laboratory.

There are four compartments in a cow's stomch.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: My husband is 33. I'm 30.

My story is so weird I'm afraid to tell anyone, but I'm desperate. Our home was happy until six months ago, when my husband began to complain about my cooking—said he got indigestion after every meal.

About six weeks ago he blurted out (in front of the children), "I know what's wrong with the food in this house. You are trying to poison me."

I asked him where he got an idea like that and he said, "I'm receiving thought waves through my electric shaver."

Last week he began to buy food for himself at the delicatessen. He brings it home and eats with us.

Yesterday he said he wasn't going to give me any more money because his shaver told him I'm interested in another man and that I'm trying to get rid of him. (My husband is part owner of a business and draws $1,500 a month.)

I need advice desperately but I'm afraid to discuss this with anyone. Help me, please! — FRANTIC.

Dear Frantic: Your husband is mentally ill and should see a doctor at once.

Ask him what he hears from his shaver about his legal obligation to support his family. If he doesn't hear anything soon, tell him he'll be getting a message from your lawyer.

Sound Advice

Dear Ann: I was struck by your sound advice to the person who wrote suggesting that any male found guilty of a second sex offense should be surgically altered by the government. The hook lies, of course, in the phrase "found guilty." Adolph Eichman decided, all by himself, who was "guilty."

I concur with your view, Ann, that sex offenders should be placed under the care of competent psychiatrists. Sex offenders have diseased minds and does not solve the problem.

I believe, too, that educating giving them jail sentences people would go a long way toward decreasing the number of sex crimes. The following rules, if observed, could prevent some of the tragedies we read about daily:

PARENTS SHOULD not leave children under 12 years of age alone.

PARENTS SHOULD insist that their children come straight home after school, or they should know where they are going and with whom.

CHILDREN SHOULD be trained not to accept auto rides, candy or money from strangers.

SITTERS SHOULD be instructed to keep the doors bolted and to open them for no one. — C.C.F.

-:-

Dear C.C.F.: Thank you for writing. This is a letter all parents should discuss at the dinner table tonight. Parents who find it difficult to discuss this subject should make an extra effort because THEIR children need the information most.

Sisterly Snob

Dear Ann: I'm visiting in the home of my sister. I'm not a frequent visitor. This is my first trip in six years. I plan to stay 10 days.

Last night my sister said, "I was invited to this luncheon and card party several weeks ago—before I knew you'd be be here. I hope you don't mind being alone today."

I said nothing, but the more I thought about it the madder I got. I would not have left her alone in my home under similar circumstances. Am I being unduly sensitive? — TWIDLING MY THUMBS.

Dear Twidling: No. Your sister should have telephoned the hostess when she learned you were coming to visit. If the hostess did not suggest that she bring you, your sister should have stayed at home.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Officers Hunt Escaped Ohio Life Termer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Authorities continued their search throughout Ohio today for a life-term prison fugitive who escaped from the London Correctional Institution in neighboring Madison County.

The fugitive, Arthur Benner Jr., 36, sentenced in connection with the death of a Fremont police officer 16 years ago, drove off in a guard's car shortly after noon Sunday.

Authorities said Benner stole the car after being released, as he was occasionally, to exercise outside the prison building. A tower guard spotted the car but recognized it as belonging to a guard.

Benner is 6-foot-1 and weighs 217 pounds. He was wearing a black leather jacket and blue jeans when last seen. The car is a beige 1963 Ford with Ohio license 40GS.

He was convicted in Sandusky County in 1948 in the death of rookie policeman George (Joe) Biggs, who attempted to stop a stolen car in which Benner and another man, William Shacklett, were riding. At the time, Benner and Shacklett both gave Detroit addresses.

Biggs jumped on the running board of the car and was crushed to death when it swerved into the side of a tractor-trailer truck.

The car crashed and Benner fled on foot. Shacklett, 21, was shot to death trying to escape. Benner later was arrested in Florida.

In 1957, Benner escaped from the Ohio Penitentiary and later was recaptured in Seattle, Wash.

Prison officials speculated that Benner may have headed toward Detroit after his Sunday escape. Reportedly he received word recently that his father was ill and in the hospital.

We're On The Move, Santa Claus Reports

SANTA CLAUS, Ga. (AP) — Santa Claus is on the move this Christmas season.

"We're doing rather well in Santa Claus, we feel," Mayor Bill Salem said today. "We have our first street being paved — Reindeer Street."

The mayor said the population of the city has increased from 5 in 1960 to 28 at present. "We've issued permits for three or four new homes and are looking forward to an additional 12 to 16 soon," he said.

During the Christmas season, Salem said, letters from all over the world arrive to be postmarked.

Plan Offered For Students By Air Force

The Air Force now has several college assistance programs designed to help young men and women earn a degree, according to S.Sgt. Ray Stanley, local recruiter.

One program, termed "Operation Bootstrap," offers cash assistance up to 75 per cent of tuition cost. Under this program, Air Force members may attend college classes in their off - duty hours, either at a Extension Center.

The courses are fully accredited and the student pays only one fourth of the normal cost, with the Air Force paying the balance.

The "Airman Education and Commissioning Program" provides a full - time college scholarship paid for by the Air Force. In addition, students accepted for this training are promoted to staff sergeant and draw the pay of the higher grade while in school.

Upon graduation, the student enters Officer Training School for three months and then is commissioned a lieutenant.

For individuals who already possess a degree and enter the nearby college or at an on-base Air Force as an officer, the Air Force Institute of Technology offers graduate level work either full or part - time.

Over 360,000 persons now are enrolled in the programs.

For more information about these and other programs contact Sgt. Stanley at his office at City Hall.

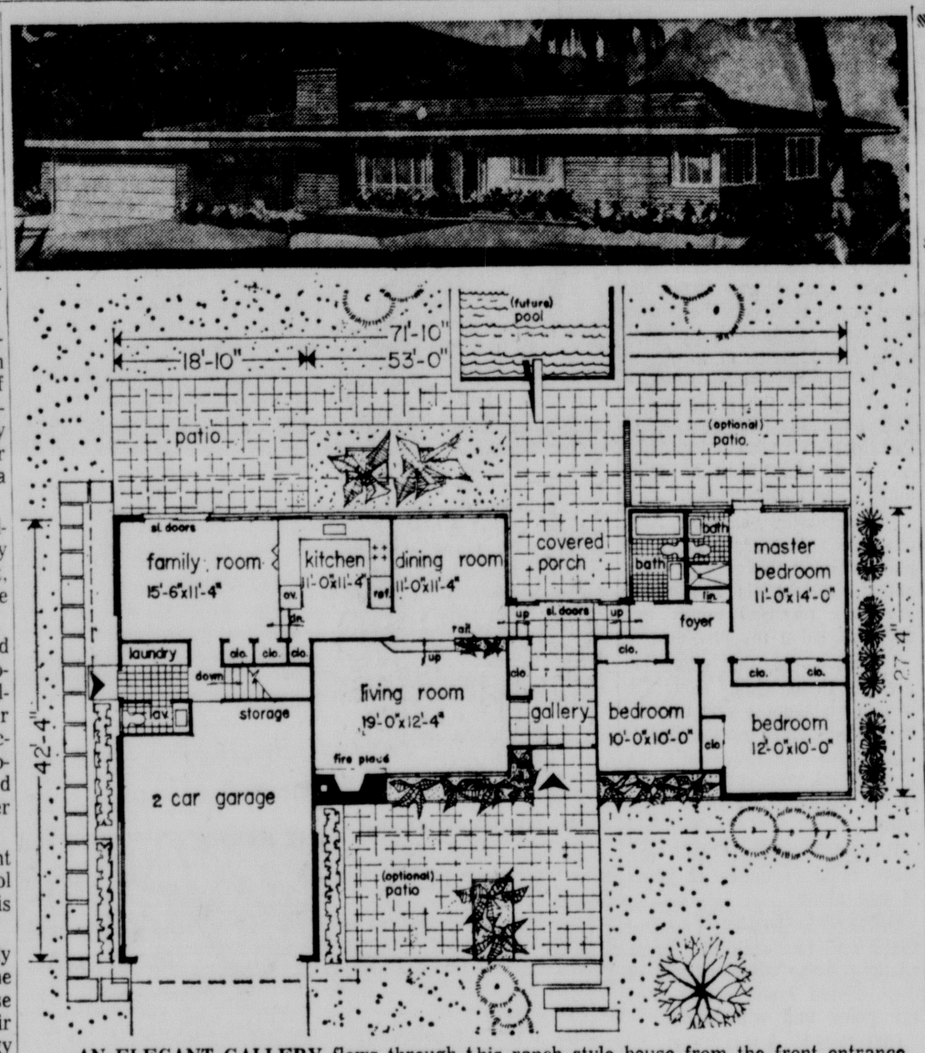
Windsor Improving; More Activity Slated

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Increased activity was scheduled today for the recuperating Duke of Windsor, who underwent abdominal surgery in Methodist Hospital last Wednesday.

The 70-year-old former British monarch already has walked in the hallway outside his room with a minimum of assistance.

He sat for short periods, read newspapers and watched television over the weekend. He continued on a liquid diet.

The surgery was for removal of an artery blister known medically as an aneurysm.



AN ELEGANT GALLERY flows through this ranch style house from the front entrance to the covered porch in the rear, dividing the bedroom wing from the living area. A square foyer, instead of the usual long hallway, leads to three large bedrooms and two full baths. A step-saving feature is the service area comprised of the laundry, garage entrance and basement stairway, which is efficiently located between the family room and garage. A lavatory is situated conveniently close by. Another efficient device is the left side of the kitchen counter which can be used as a bar facing into the family room or may be concealed from the family room, when desired, by closing the shutter-type doors. Plan HA374P contains 1,585 square feet of living space. The architect is Samuel Paul, 89-30 161 St., Jamaica, N.Y.

A Dutch Door

How To Convert Without Trouble

Buying a Dutch door to replace an average solid door is by no means a low-cost project.

But you don't have to go to that expense because any substantial exterior door of the solid type can be converted with remarkable ease and with hardly any chance of making a mistake. The job can be done without one bit of fitting, measuring or adjusting.

The first step in making this alteration is to add two hinges to the door. Place one hinge above the one below the line through which the solid door is to be cut. The cut is usually made through the center section which divides the upper and lower panels of the door.

After the hinges are in place and the door marked for cutting, it should be taken down and sawed through along the line selected. The cut should be made at a slight pitch downward toward the outside so that rain will not easily be driven in.

The two sections of the door are then hung in place again and will work quite perfectly as they were placed with the added hinges when the door was a solid unit.

The next step is to set a light molding along the inside lower edge of the upper half to close the gap between sections when the door is shut, and a drip bead along the outside lower edge of the upper half.

The only additional hardware needed will be a draw bolt, one to lock the section that does not have the old lock in it.

Three Key Areas Serve As Home 'Selling Points'

CHICAGO — The three most important areas which affect the selling price of a house are the kitchen, bathroom and basement, according to a survey of bankers and officials of other leading institutions.

These men are the experts who must decide how large a loan they can safely make on a house. Their decisions are based on what they think a house would bring in the open market.

It is the consensus of these lending officials that to bring the best price a house must have a spacious, modern kitchen; ample and up-to-date bath facilities, and a basement large enough to accommodate storage, workshop and possibly a recreation room.

In most cases, reports the Plumbing - Heating - Cooling Information Bureau, it is the woman who really buys the home.

Her husband may sign the check, but she generally has the final word concerning the kind of house in which her family will live. And since she spends a good part of her day in the kitchen, she wants a room that is large, light, conveniently arranged with modern appliances, including a double compartment sink and easy - to - maintain work space.

She is equally interested in having an adequate number of bathrooms, the number depending on the size of the family and number of bedrooms. If the house has two floors, she will want at least a bath on each. The trend today is toward a bath with every bedroom, or at least a vanity lavatory in each.

Home lenders also have reported that houses with basements sell faster than houses without them. Prospective buyers are aware of the advantages of small, unobstrusive hydronic (hot water) boilers and piping that free more of the basement area for laundry, recreation and workshop facilities.

Congo Chaos

U.S. Grows Tired Of Africa Turmoil

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

Chances for orderly development of the Congo are dim as ever, four years after its independence. That key country in the heart of Africa may be winning the melancholy distinction of becoming the main arena in the cold war.

In general, the U.S. aim in the Congo has been to keep it together and to keep the Communists out. If stability is the key to achieving this, it will be a tough struggle.

There is not much leadership timber to choose from. In the thin ranks of what is available, politics is a matter of every man for himself. The outs battle the ins, and the ins battle the outs.

Any Congo leader who is satisfactory to the United States will be opposed by the Communists, and probably also by many African leaders whose pan-African patriotism can cloak vaulting ambitions of their own.

Moise Tshombe came to power as premier last July. Since then propaganda of Communists and of leaders hostile to the United States has gone all out trying to turn him into the West's greatest liability.

Nerves are raw in Africa. Belgian Foreign Minister Paul-Henri Spaak says black Africans seem to suffer from a deep inferiority complex. They are easily swayed by slogans and labels, easily convinced that all their woes trace to colonialism and imperialism. Thus, when Tshombe antagonized virtually all sides with his attempt to set up a secessionist state in rich Katanga Province, he was easily labeled a "colonialist tool."

When Tshombe's foes accused him of plotting the murder of Patrice Lumumba, the Congo's first premier, it was easy to make Lumumba a martyr and symbol of resistance to colonialism.

But Tshombe's departure into exile didn't save the Congo. Premier Cyrille Adoula's government was plagued by rebellions, supported and often inspired by Communists from outside. Moscow and Peking, though competing in the Congo for influence, both denounced Adoula as a man conspiring with the United States to crush "people's rebellions."

Finally, last June, Adoula quit. Tshombe returned, this time to Leopoldville, with promises to form a "government of national reconciliation" and achieve "miracles within three months." No sooner had he taken over than Kindu fell to rebels in the east, and, soon after, Stanleyville.

Tshombe's army was in disarray. Tshombe himself desperately tried to accommodate all sides, even the Communist-supported "Council for National Liberation," which would cheerfully have nailed his hide to the wall.

Late in November, Belgium and the United States mounted a rescue operation to save hostages from rebel savagery in Stanleyville. African leaders hostile to the United States joined a chorus of denunciation, contending Americans thought more of a white man's life than a black man's.

But the dreary debate which continues in the United Nations makes it clear that the intervention was not so much the target as Tshombe. Leaders with ambitions of their own portray him as a man who would re-establish colonialism.

There is small comfort for the West in the Soviet-Chinese competition in Africa. When either Communist side gains, the West loses. And Communist propaganda of one sort or another is making headway. If the Communists' goal is chaos, it is far easier to achieve than stability.

One detects in the United States a weariness with African diplomacy. America still has friends among the more mature African leaders. The weariness with the others can lead to growing sentiment for concentrating U.S. efforts on countries where they will be welcomed.

'Spooky' Plumbing System Can Be Remedied In Hurry

CHICAGO — Old - time plumbing is sometimes pretty spooky. The mysterious thumps, whistles and rattles often heard in older homes are certainly annoying, if not downright frightening.

According to the Plumbing-Heating - Cooling Information Bureau, there are several types of plumbing noises and a special remedy for each. Here are a few:

Faucet noises can be produced by a worn washer or defective assembly, resulting in chattering or whistling. Often a loose washer will cause such noises by alternately stopping and freeing water when the faucet isn't completely shut off. The remedy is to disassemble the faucet and tighten the screw holding the washer. If the washer is worn, replace it.

Water closet noises usually consist of high - pitched whistling when the tank is filling. Most often, it's caused by a restricted passage in the float valve. The trouble is usually corrected by proper adjustment of the valve. If not, the valve should be replaced.

A low humming sound often indicates that water is running into the bowl after the tank has been filled, pointing toward a leaky discharge valve and a high water bill.

Usually, the fault lies with a worn stopper ball, but sometimes the seat is covered with grit or pitted from corrosion. A new ball is the prescribed remedy here, but the seat may also need cleaning and smoothing with an emory cloth.

Pounding in the pipes (water hammer) and rumbling in the water are two other noises in the plumbing system that can be easily eliminated. A plumbing contractor is the one best qualified to chase these and other spooks from your plumbing system.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. — How can I prevent white nylon from yellowing?

A. — By using bluing when laundering your nylon shirts, blouses, underthings, and the like.

Q. — How can I clean stained suede shoes?

A. — First brush them to remove all dust particles, then hold the shoe over the spout of a steaming teakettle long enough to raise the nap, but not long enough to get the shoes wet. A steam iron is fine for this, too. Then brush the nap with a soft brush, and let the shoes dry thoroughly before wearing them again.

Q.—How can I remove rust stains from white washables?

A.—Cover the stains with cream of tartar, gather up the ends of the article so the powder stays on the spot as though it were in the bottom of a sack, then dip the whole thing into hot water for five minutes. Ordinary laundering should complete the job.

Q.—How can I make a substitute solder for mending a leak in a sprinkling can or other such article?

A.—Yellow soap pressed securely into the leak will prove a good temporary substitute solder.

Officers Hunt Escaped Ohio Life Termer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Authorities continued their search throughout Ohio today for a life-term prison fugitive who escaped from the London Correctional Institution in neighboring Madison County.

The fugitive, Arthur Benner Jr., 36, sentenced in connection with the death of a Fremont police officer 16 years ago, drove off in a guard's car shortly after noon Sunday.

Authorities said Benner stole the car after being released, as he was occasionally, to exercise outside the prison building. A tower guard spotted the car but recognized it as belonging to a guard.

Benner is 6-foot-1 and weighs 217 pounds. He was wearing a black leather jacket and blue jeans when last seen. The car is a beige 1963 Ford with Ohio license 40GS.

He was convicted in Sandusky County in 1948 in the death of rookie policeman George (Joe) Biggs, who attempted to stop a stolen car in which Benner and another man, William Shacklett, were riding. At the time, Benner and Shacklett both gave Detroit addresses.

Biggs jumped on the running board of the car and was crushed to death when it swerved into the side of a tractor-trailer truck.

The car crashed and Benner fled on foot. Shacklett, 21, was shot to death trying to escape. Benner later was arrested in Florida.

In 1957, Benner escaped from the Ohio Penitentiary and later was recaptured in Seattle, Wash.

Prison officials speculated that Benner may have headed toward Detroit after his Sunday escape. Reportedly he received word recently that his father was ill and in the hospital.

We're On The Move, Santa Claus Reports

SANTA CLAUS, Ga. (AP) — Santa Claus is on the move this Christmas season.

"We're doing rather well in Santa Claus, we feel," Mayor Bill Salem said today. "We have our first street being paved — Reindeer Street."

The mayor said the population of the city has increased from 5 in 1960 to 28 at present. "We've issued permits for three or four new homes and are looking forward to an additional 12 to 16 soon," he said.

During the Christmas season, Salem said, letters from all over the world arrive to be postmarked.

Plan Offered For Students By Air Force

The Air Force now has several college assistance programs designed to help young men and women earn a degree, according to S.Sgt. Ray Stanley, local recruiter.

One program, termed "Operation Bootstrap," offers cash assistance up to 75 per cent of tuition cost. Under this program, Air Force members may attend college classes in their off - duty hours, either at a Extension Center.

The courses are fully accredited and the student pays only one fourth of the normal cost, with the Air Force paying the balance.

The "Airman Education and Commissioning Program" provides a full - time college scholarship paid for by the Air Force. In addition, students accepted for this training are promoted to staff sergeant and draw the pay of the higher grade while in school.

Upon graduation, the student enters Officer Training School for three months and then is commissioned a lieutenant.

For individuals who already possess a degree and enter the nearby college or at an on-base Air Force as an officer, the Air Force Institute of Technology offers graduate level work either full or part - time.

Over 360,000 persons now are enrolled in the programs.

For more information about these and other programs contact Sgt. Stanley at his office at City Hall.

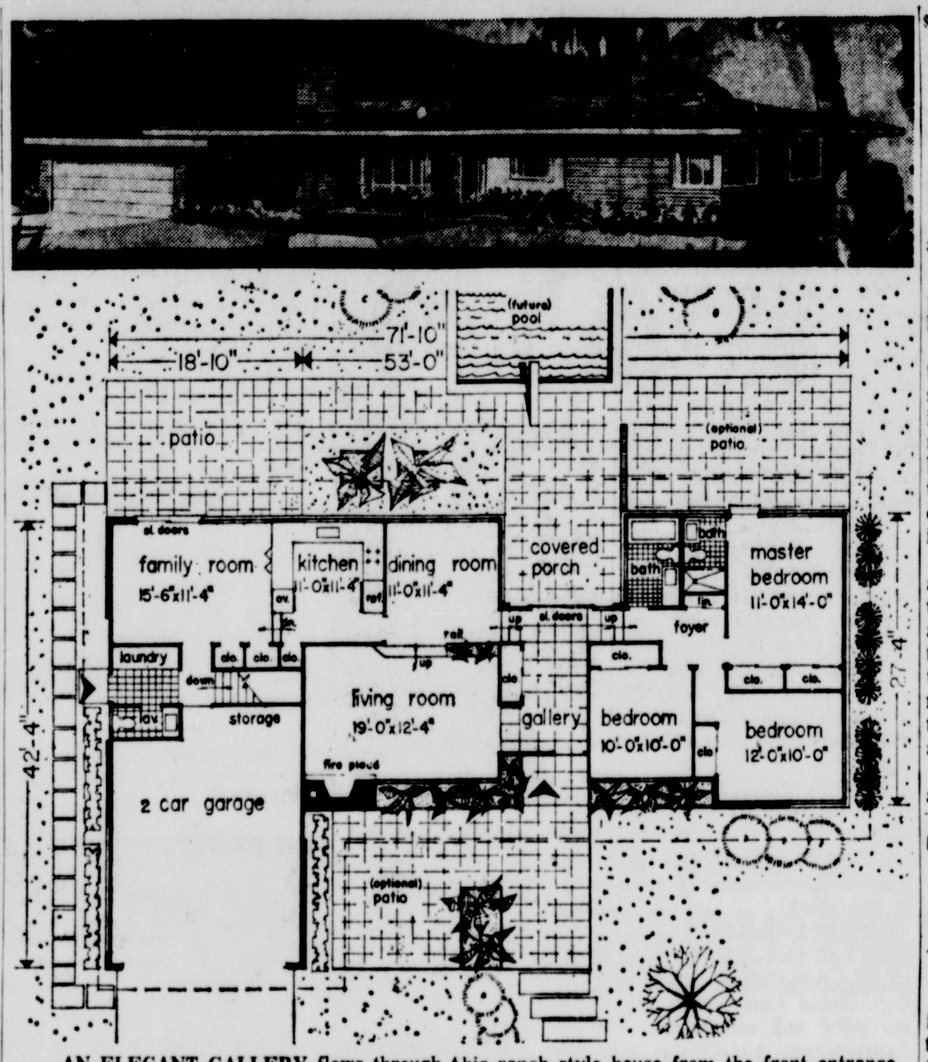
Windsor Improving; More Activity Slated

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Increased activity was scheduled today for the recuperating Duke of Windsor, who underwent abdominal surgery in Methodist Hospital last Wednesday.

The 70-year-old former British monarch already has walked in the hallway outside his room with a minimum of assistance.

He sat for short periods, read newspapers and watched television over the weekend. He continued on a liquid diet.

The surgery was for removal of an artery blister known medically as an aneurysm.



AN ELEGANT GALLERY flows through this ranch style house from the front entrance to the covered porch in the rear, dividing the bedroom wing from the living area. A square foyer, instead of the usual long hallway, leads to three large bedrooms and two full baths. A step-saving feature is the service area comprised of the laundry, garage entrance and basement stairway, which is efficiently located between the family room and garage. A lavatory is situated conveniently close by. Another efficient device is the left side of the kitchen counter which can be used as a bar facing into the family room or may be concealed from the family room, when desired, by closing the shutter-type doors. Plan HA374P contains 1,585 square feet of living space. The architect is Samuel Paul, 89-30 161 St., Jamaica, N.Y.

Congo Chaos

U.S. Grows Tired Of Africa Turmoil

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

Chances for orderly development of the Congo are dim as ever, four years after its independence. That key country in the heart of Africa may be winning the melancholy distinction of becoming the main arena in the cold war.

In general, the U.S. aim in the Congo has been to keep it together and to keep the Communists out. If stability is the key to achieving this, it will be a tough struggle.

There is not much leadership timber to choose from. In the thin ranks of what is available, politics is a matter of every man for himself. The outs battle the ins, and the ins battle the outs.

Any Congo leader who is satisfactory to the United States will be opposed by the Communists, and probably also by many African leaders whose pan-African patriotism can cloak vaulting ambitions of their own.

Moise Tshombe came to power as premier last July. Since then propaganda of Communists and of leaders hostile to the United States has gone all out trying to turn him into the West's greatest liability.

Nerves are raw in Africa. Belgian Foreign Minister Paul-Henri Spaak says black Africans seem to suffer from a deep inferiority complex. They are easily swayed by slogans and labels, easily convinced that all their woes trace to colonialism and imperialism. Thus, when Tshombe antagonized virtually all sides with his attempt to set up a secessionist state in rich Katanga Province, he was easily labeled a "colonialist tool."

When Tshombe's foes accused him of plotting the murder of Patrice Lumumba, the Congo's first premier, it was easy to make Lumumba a martyr and symbol of resistance to colonialism.

But Tshombe's departure into exile didn't save the Congo. Premier Cyrille Adoula's government was plagued by rebellions, supported and often inspired by Communists from outside. Moscow and Peking, though competing in the Congo for influence, both denounced Adoula as a man conspiring with the United States to crush "people's rebellions."

Finally, last June, Adoula quit. Tshombe returned, this time to Leopoldville, with promises to form a "government of national reconciliation" and achieve "miracles within three months." No sooner had he taken over than Kindu fell to rebels in the east, and, soon after, Stanleyville.

Tshombe's army was in disarray. Tshombe himself desperately tried to accommodate all sides, even the Communist-supported "Council for National Liberation," which would cheerfully have nailed his hide to the wall.

Late in November, Belgium and the United States mounted a rescue operation to save hostages from rebel savagery in Stanleyville. African leaders hostile to the United States joined a chorus of denunciation, contending Americans thought more of a white man's life than a black man's.

But the dreary debate which continues in the United Nations makes it clear that the intervention was not so much the target as Tshombe. Leaders with ambitions of their own portray him as a man who would re-establish colonialism.

There is small comfort for the West in the Soviet-Chinese competition in Africa. When either Communist side gains, the West loses. And Communist propaganda of one sort or another is making headway. If the Communists' goal is chaos, it is far easier to achieve than stability.

One detects in the United States a weariness with African diplomacy. America still has friends among the more mature African leaders. The weariness with the others can lead to growing sentiment for concentrating U.S. efforts on countries where they will be welcomed.

A Dutch Door

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

How To Convert Without Trouble

Buying a Dutch door to replace an average solid door is by no means a low-cost project.

But you don't have to go to that expense because any substantial exterior door of the solid type can be converted with remarkable ease and with hardly any chance of making a mistake. The job can be done without one bit of fitting, measuring or adjusting.

The first step in making this alteration is to add two hinges to the door. Place one hinge above the one below the line through which the solid door is to be cut. The cut is usually made through the center section which divides the upper and lower panels of the door.

After the hinges are in place and the door marked for cutting, it should be taken down and sawed through along the line selected. The cut should be made at a slight pitch downward toward the outside so that rain will not easily be driven in.

The two sections of the door are then hung in place again and will work quite perfectly as they were placed with the added hinges when the door was a solid unit.

The next step is to set a light molding along the inside lower edge of the upper half to close the gap between sections when the door is shut, and a drip bead along the outside lower edge of the upper half.

The only additional hardware needed will be a draw bolt, one to lock the section that does not have the old lock in it.

Three Key Areas Serve As Home 'Selling Points'

CHICAGO — The three most important areas which affect the selling price of a house are the kitchen, bathroom and basement, according to a survey of bankers and officials of other leading institutions.

These men are the experts who must decide how large a loan they can safely make on a house. Their decisions are based on what they think a house would bring in the open market.

It is the consensus of these lending officials that to bring the best price a house must have a spacious, modern kitchen; ample and up-to-date bath facilities, and a basement large enough to accommodate storage, workshop and possibly a recreation room.

In most cases, reports the Plumbing - Heating - Cooling Information Bureau, it is the woman who really buys the home.

Her husband may sign the check, but she generally has the final word concerning the kind of house in which her family will live. And since she spends a good part of her day in the kitchen, she wants a room that is large, light, conveniently arranged with modern appliances, including a double compartment sink and easy - to - maintain work space.

She is equally interested in having an adequate number of bathrooms, the number depending on the size of the family and number of bedrooms. If the house has two floors, she will want at least a bath on each. The trend today is toward a bath with every bedroom, or at least a vanity lavatory in each.

Home lenders also have reported that houses with basements sell faster than houses without them. Prospective buyers are aware of the advantages of small, unobstrusive hydronic (hot water) boilers and piping that free more of the basement area for laundry, recreation and workshop facilities.

'Atmosphere' Lends Charm To Cozy Den

There's simply no substitute for the cozy intmacy of a den. A family room can't do it because it's too much in the center of activity. The living room is too public.

A book corner in the bedroom might work, but best of all is the hideaway den in attic, basement or a quiet end of the house. Here is the place for true relaxation, the place to spin dreams, catch up with your reading — or just to grab a nap.

The den's size doesn't matter. Any space bigger than a closet will do. But atmosphere does count, for this room must be warmly inviting, serene and filled with personal treasures.

One of the easiest ways to install instant warmth is with wood walls. There's something about the friendly texture and warm golden coloring of woods like western hemlock and pine that make them practically synonymous with a den. And today you can have your wood walls any way you like them—knotty, clear, striped, dark, light, rough or smooth as a satin pillow.

To get that smooth-as-silk look, select clear 1-by-4-inch tongue-and-groove panel boards and install them horizontally. These should be panel boards cut without a pattern at the joint.

The boards are then sanded well and finished with wax, matte finish lacquer or a penetrating sanding sealer. Sometimes wallpaper lacquer is used. Any of these products captures the true coloring of the wood, allowing its hue to deepen slightly in the first few months after installation. Hemlock reaches a rich champagne in color, while the pines turn more to a gold-brown shade.

Furnishing the den is a pleasant job because here you'll want to use pieces that are long on comfort and tailored to your private taste. No need here to feel the pressure of style trends and changes.

You'll want a cushioney sofa and at least one lounge chair —a wing back with foot stool, recliner, upholstered rocker or whatever most suits you. Include plenty of occasional tables for books, ash trays, magazines, art objects, trophies. Bring your coin or stamp collection here and use it to decorate the room, or display your talents in ceramic work, embroidery or painting.

Use your favorite colors in this room, those that are especially relaxing to you, whether they're earth tones or vivid jewel shades. Remember, this is to be your very private retreat, built to please you alone.

HERE'S A COZY DEN to delight a homeowner's heart. Warmth and charm are built in with open beamed ceiling and walls of satin smooth hemlock panel boards laid horizontally. Intriguingly designed windows add character. One follows ceiling line and the other, a narrow floor-to-ceiling panel, is set in several inches from house walls.

U. S. Government Has More Tax Trackers

CHICAGO (AP) — The federal government now is getting help from 34 states and the District of Columbia in tracking down and collecting taxes.

The Commerce Clearing House says during the past 12 months 10 states including New York and Massachusetts have negotiated state - federal tax agreements to step up enforcement.

The agreements cover exchanges of aduit information relating to income, sales, use, estate and gift, motor fuel and highway use taxes. The pacts also agree to exchange information on failure to file returns and nonpayment of taxes involving either jurisdiction.

SANTA and the SINGING TURTLE

The Snowman succeeds in fixing George's jaw, but when the turtle rushes to warn Santa of his danger Womp grabs both him and the Snowman and takes them off into the woods.

CHAPTER 15

Womp carried the turtle and the Snowman into the woods.

George squeaked for help and the Snowman hollered through his nose, but no one could hear them. Santa was having lunch in the Fairy Queen's palace and all the little fairies and pixies and Storybook folk were so busy chattering they could not have heard a clap of thunder.

"W-what are you going to do with us?" asked the Snowman plaintively. It was difficult for him to talk because Womp had such a tight hold of his carrot nose.

"Leave you in the woods," said Womp, "so there will be no interruptions while I play my tune for the Music Festival."

"But, can't we hear you play?" quavered the Snowman, hoping to flatter the man witch.

GEORGE swung his head around and blurted, "If we heard him we would perish! The tune he plays will put Santa and all of Fairyland to sleep for a hundred years! He told me so himself!"

"That is the reason you can't come to the performance," said Womp. "You know too much."

"You can't stop us!" said the Snowman heatedly.

"But I can," replied Womp. "And you will have a fate worse than Santa himself!"

With that he set George down upside down between two rocks and said, "You will stay there forever because you can't get on your feet again."

The turtle thrashed his feet and his head and his tail but he could not flip himself over again. To make matters worse, the more he struggled the deeper he wedged himself between the two rocks.

Then Womp pushed the Snowman into a nearby well that once held fairy water and now was empty.

"That will hold you," said Womp coldly.

It was true, because sides of the well were slippery and the Snowman's fingers were made of snow. Everytime he tried to climb out of the well he slid back to the bottom with an awful crash.

The man witch threw his lighted match on the ground.

THE MAN WITCH went off and left them but before he went he lit his pipe and threw the match on the ground.

The match was still lighted and it flickered in the dry leaves among the rocks. Womp stared at the tiny flame thoughtfully. Finally he shrugged his shoulders and returned to the Festival.

The Snowman shouted from the bottom of the well. "Don't worry George! We'll get out of this! Something will happen. It always does."

The turtle was too buy to answer. He twisted and turned and beat on the rocks with his upside-down head. "Have to warn Santa," he muttered over and over. "Have to warn Santa!"

He could hear the fairy folk leaving the palace and taking their places in the Queen's garden for the afternoon Festival. Soon Womp would begin to play his flute.

"George," called the Snowman cheerfully. "Someone will be along to help us by and by. Don't worry."

George raised his head and looked wildly around as though by some miracle he might really see someone coming to help. What he saw instead caused his eyes to nearly pop from his head. He opened his mouth to warn the Snowman but only a thin high shriek came out.

"Ah, George, your voice is the very best," said the Snowman. "You surely would have won the Festival if you'd only had the chance!"

"Fire!" shouted George, making his voice work at last. "The brush is on fire! It's all around me! In a minute I'll be in it!"

He gasped and coughed in the smoke that swept across him.

"Help!" he gasped. "Help!"

Waterproof Sanding Erases Irregularities

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

No matter how well you sand between coats of varnish, lacquer, shellac or other finishing materials, you won't be satisfied with the result if there are any irregularities in the final coat.

Among the various methods of erasing these irregularities is one that is often neglected — smoothing the top finish with waterproof sandpaper.

It also is an excellent way of cutting down a high gloss and creating more of a satin-like finish, although it must be admitted that some persons do not wish to disturb such a gloss.

Waterproof paper is sometimes called wet paper, wet-or-dry paper, or some similar designation. It has a flexible waterproof backing and generally comes with fine grits.

A good practice for a beginner is to get the finest gritted paper available, since this type of abrasive has a strong cutting action. Because of this, waterproof paper always must be used with a light touch.

Either water or a light lubricating oil can be used. Apply a few tablespoons of liquid to the wood surface and rub lightly with the paper in the direction of the grain.

A rubber block is usually used as backing for the paper so that the cutting action will not be too great. We also have seen good results without backing up the paper, but merely guiding it with the fingers. Some professionals dip the paper in water as well as applying water to the wood.

In any case, after one area has been wet down and sanded, wipe with a dry cloth to judge the results. If satisfied, put more water or oil on another section of the wood and repeat the sanding operation, always remembering that a light touch is required.

Once you have learned how to use waterproof sandpaper — which may be the first time if you do not press down too hard —you will be pleasantly surprised at the results.

The surface will be smoother than you ever dreamed it could be. If the degree of luster is satisfactory, a coating of paste wax, rubbed according to directions on the container, will help to protect the finish.

If the surface is smooth, but you feel that too much of the gloss has been removed, a polishing with rottenstone and oil or a prepared rubbing compound will produce a mirror-like finish.

Ohioan Admires Congo's Climate--But Nothing Else

FINDLAY, Ohio (AP)—James Stauffer likes the climate in Stanleyville, The Congo.

"It's a beautiful city—but I never want to go back," the 31-year-old Findlay native said.

Stauffer recalled, "Dr. Carlson told me once that playing cards with us helped get his mind off the trouble."

This is one of the things the former radio operator in the U. S. Consulate in Stanleyville remembered about his days of imprisonment with the missionary physician, Dr. Paul Carlson. Dr. Carlson was killed by Congolese rebels following the Belgian paratrooper rescue operations Nov. 24.

Stauffer has been a communications assistant in the State Department's foreign service since 1957. His Congo assignment was completed last Aug. 2, just two days before the rebels captured Stanleyville.

"At first we (the five members of the consul staff) were held captive in the consulate for about two weeks or 10 days," he said. "But in the beginning we were treated fairly well."

The men were moved a dozen times after that.

"We were all roughed up," he said. "Many, many times I felt we weren't going to get out alive, but you had to hold out hope to keep from going off your rocker."

On one occasion, the consul staff was taken outside to the lawn, struck about 20 times with rifle butts, bayonets, sticks and machetes and made to eat the American flag.

"Whenever they moved us we knew if it were going to be good or bad by the way the guards treated us," Stauffer said. "Our treatment depended pretty much on who was in command in Stanleyville at the time."

Stauffer recalled that they were treated well by the rebel soldiers guarding them, except when they had been drinking or there was a change of command. On these occasions things got rough, he said.

Dayton Police Probe Slaying Of Woman

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Dayton police are holding William Clark, 45, of Dayton, for investigation of homicide in the death of a 53-year-old woman.

The victim, Charlene Gibson, was dead on arrival at a hospital early Sunday with a gunshot wound in the head. Authorities said Clark told them the two wrestled for the gun following an argument.

To Stir Or Not? That's Question

Question: We would like you to settle an argument.

My friend says that all paints should be stirred thoroughly before using and stirred frequently while applying the paint. I maintain that this was true years ago, but that modern paints do not require any stirring, especially during the course of the painting job. Who is right?

Answer: Sorry. He is more correct than you are. Oil, alkyd-based paints and enamel should be stirred and shaken before using.

Most paint dealers and hardware stores now have mechanical vibrators which shake the cans of paint after you purchase them. Even then, stirring is recommended before starting to paint. To prevent spilling with new cans of paint, pour some of the liquid into a smaller can.

Stir the paint in the larger can, then pour back the rest of the paint, a little at a time, as you do so. You also should stir periodically while painting. Latex paints should not be shaken or a slight foaming action will result. However, stirring is recommended.

One material that should neither be shaken nor stirred is varnish. Any action of this kind produces bubbles which do not disappear immediately and which sometimes are transferred to the surface of the stock being finished.

Varnish is different in another respect. It must be flowed on rather than brushed on, as with regular paint. This flowing-on stroke is also proper for enamel.

'Atmosphere' Lends Charm To Cozy Den

Why not give your home a Christmas present this year? A den with real slippers and pipe atmosphere, for instance.

There's simply no substitute for the cozy intmacy of a den. A family room can't do it because it's too much in the center of activity. The living room is too public.

A book corner in the bedroom might work, but best of all is the hideaway den in attic, basement or a quiet end of the house. Here is the place for true relaxation, the place to spin dreams, catch up with your reading — or just to grab a nap.

The den's size doesn't matter. Any space bigger than a closet will do. But atmosphere does count, for this room must be warmly inviting, serene and filled with personal treasures.

One of the easiest ways to install instant warmth is with wood walls. There's something about the friendly texture and warm golden coloring of woods like western hemlock and pine that make them practically synonymous with a den. And today you can have your wood walls any way you like them—knotty, clear, striped, dark, light, rough or smooth as a satin pillow.

To get that smooth-as-silk look, select clear 1-by-4-inch tongue-and-groove panel boards and install them horizontally. These should be panel boards cut without a pattern at the joint.

The boards are then sanded well and finished with wax, matte finish lacquer or a penetrating sanding sealer. Sometimes wallpaper lacquer is used. Any of these products captures the true coloring of the wood, allowing its hue to deepen slightly in the first few months after installation. Hemlock reaches a rich champagne in color, while the pines turn more to a gold-brown shade.

Furnishing the den is a pleasant job because here you'll want to use pieces that are long on comfort and tailored to your private taste. No need here to feel the pressure of style trends and changes.

You'll want a cushioney sofa and at least one lounge chair —a wing back with foot stool, recliner, upholstered rocker or whatever most suits you. Include plenty of occasional tables for books, ash trays, magazines, art objects, trophies. Bring your coin or stamp collection here and use it to decorate the room, or display your talents in ceramic work, embroidery or painting.

Use your favorite colors in this room, those that are especially relaxing to you, whether they're earth tones or vivid jewel shades. Remember, this is to be your very private retreat, built to please you alone.

HERE'S A COZY DEN to delight a homeowner's heart. Warmth and charm are built in with open beamed ceiling and walls of satin smooth hemlock panel boards laid horizontally. Intriguingly designed windows add character. One follows ceiling line and the other, a narrow floor-to-ceiling panel, is set in several inches from house walls.

Heart Seizure Claims Newspaper Executive

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP)—A heart attack has claimed the life of Carroll E. Bartlett, 64, general manager of the Painesville Telegraph, the Mentor Monitor and the Geauga Times-Leader in Chardon.

Bartlett, who died Sunday at his home here, had been connected with the Rowley Publications of Ashtabula, owners of the newspapers, for 39 years. He was a journalism graduate of Ohio State University and in 1925 began his newspaper career in Painesville on the Telegraph.

U. S. Government Has More Tax Trackers

CHICAGO (AP) — The federal government now is getting help from 34 states and the District of Columbia in tracking down and collecting taxes.

The agreements cover exchanges of aduit information relating to income, sales, use, estate and gift, motor fuel and highway use taxes. The pacts also agree to exchange information on failure to file returns and nonpayment of taxes involving either jurisdiction.

The original 65,000 documents are housed in the Library of Congress at Washington. Through the microfilm project, they will be available in Florida for the first time in 95 years.

SANTA and the SINGING TURTLE

The Snowman succeeds in fixing George's jaw, but when the turtle rushes to warn Santa of his danger Womp grabs both him and the Snowman and takes them off into the woods.

The man witch threw his lighted match on the ground.

CHAPTER 15

Womp carried the turtle and the Snowman into the woods.

George squeaked for help and the Snowman hollered through his nose, but no one could hear them. Santa was having lunch in the Fairy Queen's palace and all the little fairies and pixies and Storybook folk were so busy chattering they could not have heard a clap of thunder.

"W-what are you going to do with us?" asked the Snowman plaintively. It was difficult for him to talk because Womp had such a tight hold of his carrot nose.

"Leave you in the woods," said Womp, "so there will be no interruptions while I play my tune for the Music Festival."

"But, can't we hear you play?" quavered the Snowman, hoping to flatter the man witch.

—:—

GEORGE swung his head around and blurted, "If we heard him we would perish! The tune he plays will put Santa and all of Fairyland to sleep for a hundred years! He told me so himself!"

"That is the reason you can't come to the performance," said Womp. "You know too much."

"You can't stop us!" said the Snowman heatedly.

"But I can," replied Womp. "And you will have a fate worse than Santa himself!"

With that he set George down upside down between two rocks and said, "You will stay there forever because you can't get on your feet again."

The turtle thrashed his feet and his head and his tail but he could not flip himself over again. To make matters worse, the more he struggled the deeper he wedged himself between the two rocks.

Then Womp pushed the Snowman into a nearby well that once held fairy water and now was empty.

"That will hold you," said Womp coldly.

It was true, because sides of the well were slippery and the Snowman's fingers were made of snow. Everytime he tried to climb out of the well he slid back to the bottom with an awful crash.

THE MAN WITCH went off and left them but before he went he lit his pipe and threw the match on the ground.

The match was still lighted and it flickered in the dry leaves among the rocks. Womp stared at the tiny flame thoughtfully. Finally he shrugged his shoulders and returned to the Festival.

The Snowman shouted from the bottom of the well. "Don't worry George! We'll get out of this! Something will happen. It always does."

The turtle was too buy to answer. He twisted and turned and beat on the rocks with his upside-down head. "Have to warn Santa," he muttered over and over. "Have to warn Santa!"

He could hear the fairy folk leaving the palace and taking their places in the Queen's garden for the afternoon Festival. Soon Womp would begin to play his flute.

"George," called the Snowman cheerfully. "Someone will be along to help us by and by. Don't worry."

George raised his head and looked wildly around as though by some miracle he might really see someone coming to help. What he saw instead caused his eyes to nearly pop from his head. He opened his mouth to warn the Snowman but only a thin high shriek came out.

"Ah, George, your voice is the very best," said the Snowman. "You surely would have won the Festival if you'd only had the chance!"

"Fire!" shouted George, making his voice work at last. "The brush is on fire! It's all around me! In a minute I'll be in it!"

He gasped and coughed in the smoke that swept across him.

"Help!" he gasped. "Help!"

Waterproof Sanding Erases Irregularities

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

No matter how well you sand between coats of varnish, lacquer, shellac or other finishing materials, you won't be satisfied with the result if there are any irregularities in the final coat.

Among the various methods of erasing these irregularities is one that is often neglected — smoothing the top finish with waterproof sandpaper.

It also is an excellent way of cutting down a high gloss and creating more of a satin-like finish, although it must be admitted that some persons do not wish to disturb such a gloss.

Waterproof paper is sometimes called wet paper, wet-or-dry paper, or some similar designation. It has a flexible waterproof backing and generally comes with fine grits.

A good practice for a beginner is to get the finest gritted paper available, since this type of abrasive has a strong cutting action. Because of this, waterproof paper always must be used with a light touch.

Either water or a light lubricating oil can be used. Apply a few tablespoons of liquid to the wood surface and rub lightly with the paper in the direction of the grain.

A rubber block is usually used as backing for the paper so that the cutting action will not be too great. We also have seen good results without backing up the paper, but merely guiding it with the fingers. Some professionals dip the paper in water as well as applying water to the wood.

In any case, after one area has been wet down and sanded, wipe with a dry cloth to judge the results. If satisfied, put more water or oil on another section of the wood and repeat the sanding operation, always remembering that a light touch is required.

Once you have learned how to use waterproof sandpaper — which may be the first time if you do not press down too hard —you will be pleasantly surprised at the results.

The surface will be smoother than you ever dreamed it could be. If the degree of luster is satisfactory, a coating of paste wax, rubbed according to directions on the container, will help to protect the finish.

If the surface is smooth, but you feel that too much of the gloss has been removed, a polishing with rottenstone and oil or a prepared rubbing compound will produce a mirror-like finish.

Ohioan Admires Congo's Climate--But Nothing Else

FINDLAY, Ohio (AP)—James Stauffer likes the climate in Stanleyville, The Congo.

"It's a beautiful city—but I never want to go back," the 31-year-old Findlay native said.

Bringing Up A Family

By DR. GARRY MYERS

All Should Help Mother On Christmas

In looking forward to Christmas Day, it's well to consider the degree of strain on the mother and the little children, especially if there are two or three of the latter. Of course, some relatives and friends from a distance may drop in for the day, whether invited or not.

Dr Garry Myers

But, hoping to have a happy Christmas Day for yourselves and your little children, you may hesitate to invite another family of little children to join yours.

While it might warm your heart at first to see all these little children together, there surely will be considerable confusion later. Likewise, you might wisely hesitate to go with your very young children to spend Christmas with another family having young ones too. Jewish families of young children might find a similar problem during Hannukah or orther special days.

WHERE children are older, the problem obviously is less serious when two or more families of children, parents and grandparents assemble for Christmas or a similar celebration. It might, indeed, be a delightful family get-together.

Preparation for Christmas causes many a mother excessive nervous strain. She generally wraps and mails gifts. She prepares special foods for the day and labors over many dainties. Some mothers even work late at night making gifts. By the time Christmas Day arrives, she may be pretty well worn out. Then a day of more strain and confusion may be added. We wish she would now choose a simpler program.

Even with the family of several young children and no guests, Christmas Day can be a heavy burden for the mother. With so many gifts all at once, there is great excitement. Before long there may be considerable confusion, even quarreling and fighting among the children. The radio or TV may be going full - blast, to make it worse.

DAD SHOULD do his part to manage the children, and thus relieve the mother. He might supervise the children in cleaning up the discarded wrappings and putting some of the gifts away. He might be able to take the younger children, weather permitting, outdoors for some fun. He might effect a quiet period by reading to the younger children or guiding them at some other non - running fun.

With a little thought and planning long before Christmas, also early on Christmas Day, the nervous strain on both parents and the young children may be kept reasonably low.

During the day, children in the neighborhood may drop in to see the gifts and the children in your home may want to visit homes of the neighbors. All this may call for considerable parental skill. At this time the father may help relieve the mother encumbered with so many other cares. Certainly during the afternoon, there should be a quiet period, when the younger children would be home and, if possible, no guest children welcomed. The radio and TV should be minimized. Children, accustomed to an afternoon nap, especially need it on Christmas afternoon.

IN THE family of children over six or eight, Dad should supervise them in helping about the home — preparing the foods, setting the table, carrying foods to the table, clearing the table after dinner, washing the dishes, and tidying up. Too often, the mother alone does nearly all of this, even where there are teen - age children.

Of course, how much cooperation you can get from older children on Christmas Day will depend on how well they have been trained to share in home responsibilities during earlier days and months.

Bringing Up A Family

By DR. GARRY MYERS

All Should Help Mother On Christmas

In looking forward to Christmas Day, it's well to consider the degree of strain on the mother and the little children, especially if there are two or three of the latter. Of course, some relatives and friends from a distance may drop in for the day, whether invited or not. But, hoping to have a happy Christmas Day for yourselves and your little children, you may hesitate to invite another family of little children to join yours.

Dr Garry Myers

While it might warm your heart at first to see all these little children together, there surely will be considerable confusion later. Likewise, you might wisely hesitate to go with your very young children to spend Christmas with another family having young ones too. Jewish families of young children might find a similar problem during Hannukah or orther special days.

—:—

WHERE children are older, the problem obviously is less serious when two or more families of children, parents and grandparents assemble for Christmas or a similar celebration. It might, indeed, be a delightful family get-together.

Preparation for Christmas causes many a mother excessive nervous strain. She generally wraps and mails gifts. She prepares special foods for the day and labors over many dainties. Some mothers even work late at night making gifts. By the time Christmas Day arrives, she may be pretty well worn out. Then a day of more strain and confusion may be added. We wish she would now choose a simpler program.

Even with the family of several young children and no guests, Christmas Day can be a heavy burden for the mother. With so many gifts all at once, there is great excitement. Before long there may be considerable confusion, even quarreling and fighting among the children. The radio or TV may be going full - blast, to make it worse.

DAD SHOULD do his part to manage the children, and thus relieve the mother. He might supervise the children in cleaning up the discarded wrappings and putting some of the gifts away. He might be able to take the younger children, weather permitting, outdoors for some fun. He might effect a quiet period by reading to the younger children or guiding them at some other non - running fun.

With a little thought and planning long before Christmas, also early on Christmas Day, the nervous strain on both parents and the young children may be kept reasonably low.

During the day, children in the neighborhood may drop in to see the gifts and the children in your home may want to visit homes of the neighbors. All this may call for considerable parental skill. At this time the father may help relieve the mother encumbered with so many other cares. Certainly during the afternoon, there should be a quiet period, when the younger children would be home and, if possible, no guest children welcomed. The radio and TV should be minimized. Children, accustomed to an afternoon nap, especially need it on Christmas afternoon.

IN THE family of children over six or eight, Dad should supervise them in helping about the home — preparing the foods, setting the table, carrying foods to the table, clearing the table after dinner, washing the dishes, and tidying up. Too often, the mother alone does nearly all of this, even where there are teen - age children.

Of course, how much cooperation you can get from older children on Christmas Day will depend on how well they have been trained to share in home responsibilities during earlier days and months.

Whites, Negroes Rebuild Church

RIPLEY, Miss. (AP) — On the muddy ruins of a Negro church at the edge of a cotton field, white students from the North joined today with Negroes from Mississippi to rebuild a house or worship — a monument to their belief in brotherhood.

The college students and professors, who call themselves "Carpenters for Christmas," arrived Sunday from Oberlin College in Oberlin, Ohio. There were 26 in the first group; 6 more were expected today.

They traveled nearly 800 miles, the final lap over muddy, treacherous red clay roads to the desolate place where Antioch Baptist Church had stood.

The frame building burned last Oct. 30 within hours after it was used for a civil rights meeting.

"We can start laying brick by Tuesday and start the framing Wednesday," said Burrell L. Scott, 40, a mason contractor from Cleveland, Ohio.

Scott, a Negro, flew to Memphis — about 70 miles to the northwest — and then drove to the church site, which is about 10 miles from Ripley.

The Oberlin group plans to work through the holidays.

"We have to be back in class Jan. 4," said dark-haired Marcia Aronoff, 20, Oberlin senior and spokesman for the group.

She is co-chairman of the Oberlin Action for Civil Rights organization. A sociology major, she is from Middletown, Ohio.

Attired in mud-smeared black boots, faded blue jeans and a red coat, she dug at the clay with a pick. She and the other students — and two professors — ignored a biting wind, near freezing temperatures and the mud.

The sky was overcast. A clump of red oaks stood forlornly behind the church site. Several old church pews, blackened by the weather, had been arranged around a fire of scrap lumber and the students warmed themselves.

Marcia Aronoff was asked why the group chose this church to rebuild.

"We sent some students down here to work with the Freedom Democratic party right before the election," she said. "There were 21 who came during a two-week period. Some of them were here at the rally the night the church burned."

Ohio Counts 8 Traffic Dead

Traffic	8
Fires	5
Miscellaneous	1
Total	14

By The Associated Press

Ohio's weekend traffic death toll was relatively low despite severe winter driving conditions but another cold weather killer —fire—burned a tragic blot on the record.

At least five persons died in fires, including a young Tiffin father and his three sons. Robert A. Church, 32, and sons Robert, 13, Michael, 8, and Jeffrey, 6, perished when flames destroyed their home early Sunday. Church was a widower.

The other fire victim was Mrs. Frederick G. Barker, 62, who died in a fire at her home in Shaker Heights.

Traffic accidents accounted for eight deaths, and there was one drowning for an overall accidental death toll of 14.

The fatalities:

Sunday

Mark Finch, 7, of suburban Dayton, drowned after falling through the ice in a frozen pond.

Willis G. Galloway, 62, of Lore City, in a single-car crash on Ohio 22 near Cambridge.

Saturday

Alexander Beck, 61, Cincinnati cab driver, when struck by a car on Cincinnati street.

Sam Cash Hampton, 66, of Miamisburg, when his auto was struck by a New York Central freight train north of Miamisburg in Montgomery County.

Joseph White, 59, Struthers, when his car struck a tree near Youngstown.

Helen M. Reed, 51, Malta, Morgan County, in a two-car crash at an intersection about 12 miles south of Zanesville.

Cecil Atkins, 39, and Ronald Byerly, 21, both of Ravenna, in a single car crash near Ravenna.

Debbie Heuer, 15, of the Cincinnati suburb of Glendale, when the car she was riding in struck a tree in Glendale.

New Zealand Has 190 Railroad Tunnels

WELLINGTON, New Zealand (AP) — Mountainous New Zealand has 190 railroad tunnels — one for every 18 miles of track. On one line in the Southern Alps there are 16 tunnels in seven miles.

Among its rail tunnels New Zealand claims the longest in the Southern Hemisphere — the Rimutaka tunnel on the Auckland - Wairarapa track that is 5 miles 814 yards long.

Now the railways have announced plans to build another long tunnel through the Kaimai mountain range to connect Auckland and the Bay of Plenty district. Engineers say they are not quite certain whether this Kaimai tunnel will be a few yards longer or shorter than Rimutaka.

British explorer Captain James Cook gave the Bay of Plenty its name in 1796 because the Maoris gave him liberal supplies of food and water. A little to the south is Poverty Bay, also named by Cook. The Maoris there gave him water, but no food.

Burch Issue Given Study By Goldwater

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater takes a fresh look today at the controversy over Republican National Chairman Dean Burch at a high-level GOP strategy conference.

Invited to sit in with the defeated presidential candidate were his running mate, Rep. William E. Miller, Burch and the chairmen of the party's two congressional campaign committees, Sen. Thruston B. Morton of Kentucky and Rep. Bob Wilson of California.

Morton said Sunday night he did not expect to attend. "I just had a tooth pulled and a couple of minor things happened," he said in Louisville, adding he had another dentist appointment scheduled today.

There were signs Goldwater hoped to enlist support from Morton and Wilson in an active effort to save Burch's job. Moderate and progressive Republicans are trying to get rid of Burch in the wake of last month's overwhelming Republican defeat.

A showdown is expected when the GOP National Committee meets Jan. 22-23 in Chicago.

Miller, who preceded Burch as national chairman, has been canvassing committee members in the latter's behalf. There was evidence the anti-Burch drive has made greater headway than expected.

Friends said that Morton and Wilson, who have publicly opposed Burch's replacement, are wary of involving themselves actively in the chairmanship battle.

Morton particularly was reported convinced that the opposition to Burch is so strong that it is only a matter of time until the chairman will have to step down, even if he wins a confidence vote at the Chicago meeting.

But Goldwater was depicted as having rejected all proposals for a compromise in a fight he has said is directed at him, rather than at Burch.

Wilson may calculate he has some more important work on his hands in the House revolt against the minority leadership of Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana. The campaign committee chairman has put himself on record in support of Halleck.

Rep. Gerald R. Ford, R-Mich., announced Saturday he will oppose Halleck for the leadership post at a Jan. 4 caucus of the 140 House Republicans.

Blaze Kills Tiffin Widower And His 3 Sons, 6 To 13

TIFFIN, Ohio (AP) — One thing 32-year - old Robert A. Church promised his wife before she died of cancer in 1961 was that he would raise their three sons the way she would have.

"He was a wonderful father," said a housekeeper who cooked for the boys ranging in age from six to 13. "He tried harder than ever to give the boys the love and care they needed after their mother died."

Early Sunday a house near Tiffin became what a neighbor woman called "a ball of fire," trapping and killing the young widower and his three sons — Robert D. 13, Michael, 8, and Jeffrey, 6.

Mrs. Grace Miller, 53, who lives two houses away from the fire scene in Hopewell Township, said she heard a blast at 3:30 a.m. She looked out the window and saw the two-story frame house belonging to Church in flames.

"It was an inferno and flames were leaping all over the place," recalled Andrew Clouse, fire chief in Bascom. He arrived 10 minutes after he got the alarm.

"There wasn't anything we could do but water it down. It was so horrible knowing that you couldn't do anything for those we were told were inside."

180 Parents See Holiday Event At No. 16 School

The fourth and fifth grades, directed by Mrs. Maysel Beck, presented a playlet, "Christmas in Court." An operetta, "Christmas Story," based on Dickens' Christmas Carol, was given by the sixth through eighth grades. It was directed by Kenneth Vuletic, Mrs. Edna Spring and Mrs. Freda Schubert, principal. Mrs. Dorothy Price was accompanist.

After the program, a bake sale was held by the ways and means committee comprised of Mrs. Melvin Taggart, Mrs. W. F. Cattrell, Mrs. Melvin Martin, Mrs. Phyllis Boyce.

A turkey dinner will be served Tuesday noon in the cafeteria, when the school closes for the holidays. Parties will be held in the rooms of the eighth grades, gifts will be exchanged and a treat will be given by the PTA and teachers.

Whites, Negroes Rebuild Church

RIPLEY, Miss. (AP) — On the muddy ruins of a Negro church at the edge of a cotton field, white students from the North joined today with Negroes from Mississippi to rebuild a house or worship — a monument to their belief in brotherhood.

The college students and professors, who call themselves "Carpenters for Christmas," arrived Sunday from Oberlin College in Oberlin, Ohio. There were 26 in the first group; 6 more were expected today.

They traveled nearly 800 miles, the final lap over muddy, treacherous red clay roads to the desolate place where Antioch Baptist Church had stood.

The frame building burned last Oct. 30 within hours after it was used for a civil rights meeting.

"We can start laying brick by Tuesday and start the framing Wednesday," said Burrell L. Scott, 40, a mason contractor from Cleveland, Ohio.

Scott, a Negro, flew to Memphis — about 70 miles to the northwest — and then drove to the church site, which is about 10 miles from Ripley.

The Oberlin group plans to work through the holidays.

"We have to be back in class Jan. 4," said dark-haired Marcia Aronoff, 20, Oberlin senior and spokesman for the group.

She is co-chairman of the Oberlin Action for Civil Rights organization. A sociology major, she is from Middletown, Ohio.

Attired in mud-smeared black boots, faded blue jeans and a red coat, she dug at the clay with a pick. She and the other students — and two professors — ignored a biting wind, near freezing temperatures and the mud.

The sky was overcast. A clump of red oaks stood forlornly behind the church site. Several old church pews, blackened by the weather, had been arranged around a fire of scrap lumber and the students warmed themselves.

Marcia Aronoff was asked why the group chose this church to rebuild.

"We sent some students down here to work with the Freedom Democratic party right before the election," she said. "There were 21 who came during a two-week period. Some of them were here at the rally the night the church burned."

Ohio Counts 8 Traffic Dead

Traffic	8
Fires	5
Miscellaneous	1
Total	14

By The Associated Press

Ohio's weekend traffic death toll was relatively low despite severe winter driving conditions but another cold weather killer —fire—burned a tragic blot on the record.

At least five persons died in fires, including a young Tiffin father and his three sons. Robert A. Church, 32, and sons Robert, 13, Michael, 8, and Jeffrey, 6, perished when flames destroyed their home early Sunday. Church was a widower.

The other fire victim was Mrs. Frederick G. Barker, 62, who died in a fire at her home in Shaker Heights.

Traffic accidents accounted for eight deaths, and there was one drowning for an overall accidental death toll of 14.

The fatalities:

Sunday

Mark Finch, 7, of suburban Dayton, drowned after falling through the ice in a frozen pond.

Willis G. Galloway, 62, of Lore City, in a single-car crash on Ohio 22 near Cambridge.

Saturday

Alexander Beck, 61, Cincinnati cab driver, when struck by a car on Cincinnati street.

Sam Cash Hampton, 66, of Miamisburg, when his auto was struck by a New York Central freight train north of Miamisburg in Montgomery County.

Joseph White, 59, Struthers, when his car struck a tree near Youngstown.

Helen M. Reed, 51, Malta, Morgan County, in a two-car crash at an intersection about 12 miles south of Zanesville.

Cecil Atkins, 39, and Ronald Byerly, 21, both of Ravenna, in a single car crash near Ravenna.

Debbie Heuer, 15, of the Cincinnati suburb of Glendale, when the car she was riding in struck a tree in Glendale.

New Zealand Has 190 Railroad Tunnels

WELLINGTON, New Zealand (AP) — Mountainous New Zealand has 190 railroad tunnels — one for every 18 miles of track. On one line in the Southern Alps there are 16 tunnels in seven miles.

Among its rail tunnels New Zealand claims the longest in the Southern Hemisphere — the Rimutaka tunnel on the Auckland - Wairarapa track that is 5 miles 814 yards long.

Now the railways have announced plans to build another long tunnel through the Kaimai mountain range to connect Auckland and the Bay of Plenty district. Engineers say they are not quite certain whether this Kaimai tunnel will be a few yards longer or shorter than Rimutaka.

British explorer Captain James Cook gave the Bay of Plenty its name in 1796 because the Maoris gave him liberal supplies of food and water. A little to the south is Poverty Bay, also named by Cook. The Maoris there gave him water, but no food.

Ronnie Waldo, Rice's sophomore quarterback, led the Owl baseball team in hitting last spring.

Burch Issue Given Study By Goldwater

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater takes a fresh look today at the controversy over Republican National Chairman Dean Burch at a high-level GOP strategy conference.

Invited to sit in with the defeated presidential candidate were his running mate, Rep. William E. Miller, Burch and the chairmen of the party's two congressional campaign committees, Sen. Thruston B. Morton of Kentucky and Rep. Bob Wilson of California.

Morton said Sunday night he did not expect to attend. "I just had a tooth pulled and a couple of minor things happened," he said in Louisville, adding he had another dentist appointment scheduled today.

There were signs Goldwater hoped to enlist support from Morton and Wilson in an active effort to save Burch's job. Moderate and progressive Republicans are trying to get rid of Burch in the wake of last month's overwhelming Republican defeat.

A showdown is expected when the GOP National Committee meets Jan. 22-23 in Chicago.

Miller, who preceded Burch as national chairman, has been canvassing committee members in the latter's behalf. There was evidence the anti-Burch drive has made greater headway than expected.

Friends said that Morton and Wilson, who have publicly opposed Burch's replacement, are wary of involving themselves actively in the chairmanship battle.

Morton particularly was reported convinced that the opposition to Burch is so strong that it is only a matter of time until the chairman will have to step down, even if he wins a confidence vote at the Chicago meeting.

But Goldwater was depicted as having rejected all proposals for a compromise in a fight he has said is directed at him, rather than at Burch.

Wilson may calculate he has some more important work on his hands in the House revolt against the minority leadership of Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana. The campaign committee chairman has put himself on record in support of Halleck.

Rep. Gerald R. Ford, R-Mich., announced Saturday he will oppose Halleck for the leadership post at a Jan. 4 caucus of the 140 House Republicans.

Blaze Kills Tiffin Widower And His 3 Sons, 6 To 13

TIFFIN, Ohio (AP) — One thing 32-year - old Robert A. Church promised his wife before she died of cancer in 1961 was that he would raise their three sons the way she would have.

"He was a wonderful father," said a housekeeper who cooked for the boys ranging in age from six to 13. "He tried harder than ever to give the boys the love and care they needed after their mother died."

Early Sunday a house near Tiffin became what a neighbor woman called "a ball of fire," trapping and killing the young widower and his three sons — Robert D. 13, Michael, 8, and Jeffrey, 6.

Mrs. Grace Miller, 53, who lives two houses away from the fire scene in Hopewell Township, said she heard a blast at 3:30 a.m. She looked out the window and saw the two-story frame house belonging to Church in flames.

"It was an inferno and flames were leaping all over the place," recalled Andrew Clouse, fire chief in Bascom. He arrived 10 minutes after he got the alarm.

"There wasn't anything we could do but water it down. It was so horrible knowing that you couldn't do anything for those we were told were inside."

180 Parents See Holiday Event At No. 16 School

The fourth and fifth grades, directed by Mrs. Maysel Beck, presented a playlet, "Christmas in Court." An operetta, "Christmas Story," based on Dickens' Christmas Carol, was given by the sixth through eighth grades. After the program, a bake sale was held by the ways and means committee comprised of Mrs. Melvin Taggart, Mrs. W. F. Cattrell, Mrs. Melvin Martin, Mrs. Phyllis Boyce.

OFF THE RECORD

"Brother Barnabas, you went off and left the light burning again."

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. — What can I do about "blooming" on my piano, that cloudy appearance some wood tends to take on?

A. — Carefully go over it with a very soft cloth, sponge, or chamois wrung out in warm water and suds made of castille soap. Remove the soap by going over the surface again with a clean, moist cloth. After thoroughly dry, polish with a good furniture polish having a beeswax base.

Q. — How can I clean rusted or corroded metal surfaces quickly?

A. — An ordinary rubber eraser dipped into emery powder makes an effective scouring pad for cleaning off these rusted or corroded metal surfaces.

Q. — How can I remedy a baseboard or some wood trim in my home, which has warped away from the wall?

A. — Try drilling a clearance hole through the board at its greatest bulge, and then running a flat - headed screw into the stud underneath. If you're unable to pull the board up all the way, fill the space between it and the wall with putty, or plaster, and paint.

Q. — Is there any use that can be made of the usually discarded celery tops?

A. — Try chopping them and using in salads, soups, stuffings, sandwich spreads, and stews. They add a good flavor.

Q. — How can I remedy sticking drawers in one of our chests?

A. — Sandpaper and varnish the edges. The varnish will seal the pores of the wood and prevent it from swelling and shrinking. It's a good idea, too, to varnish or paint the insides of the drawers.

Junior Editors Quiz on CORAL

QUESTION: How is coral made?

ANSWER: This is the question Phyllis is asking herself as she admires a beautiful coral necklace her father gave her for a birthday gift. Coral is so hard it looks like stone, indeed, it is limestone, but this has been formed by tiny animals called coral polyps. The polyps look like minute flowers, but the petals are really tentacles surrounding a mouth which is on top of a sack-like body. Needing protection and support, the polyps take calcium which is dissolved in sea water and deposit it around their bodies in the form of hard calcium carbonate. Most coral animals crowd together, their combined cups forming many strange and beautiful shapes such as at upper right and lower left.

It is the gathering together of billions of these little animals which made the famous coral reefs. Corals need water at temperatures above 70 degrees, so they are found in tropical and sub-tropical areas. Corals provide the foundation for many of the romantic tropical islands, some of which, the atolls, are circular in shape, with coral reefs surrounding an area of quiet water, the lagoon.

FOR YOU TO DO: The kind of coral used for jewelry, often red, rose or pink and beautifully polished, is called precious coral and comes from the Mediterranean Sea and Japan. See if you can swap to get a bit for your mineral collection.

★ ★ ★

Marilyn Weiner of Fort Morgan, Colo., wins today's combined prize of Compton's Illustrated Science Dictionary plus $10 cash for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of The Review and you may win the weekly grand prize of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: It's Christmas week and time to make popcorn balls . . . we all love them but, oh, how I hate that sticky syrup all over my hands and under my nails!

Well, here's my solution: I put plastic bags on my hands and secure them with rubber bands at my wrists. The bags are large enough that I am able to flex my fingers.

After rubbing a little butter on the palms of my plastic mittens, it is so easy to form the popcorn balls . . . and no more gooey hands!

HAZEL M.

DEAR HELOISE: I have a decorating idea for my dining room table that I have found to be both practical and festive during the holidays.

Last year, I bought a clear, plastic tablecloth to put over my regular cloth.

Then I cut pictures from a magazine (Santa Claus, reindeers, etc.) and put them underneath the plastic at our individual places. I also cut out snowflakes in different colors and placed them here and there under the plastic tablecloth.

The pictures can be changed with the season. On Valentine's Day, I put valentines under the cloth and for Easter, I use pictures of bunnies and Easter eggs.

The children love it.

ADA LUCINANA.

-:-

Gals, this is a terrific idea. Should appeal to the youngsters, especially if you let them cut out their own snowflakes.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Don't forget to buy a spool of heavy, green thread next time you go shopping. Remember, some Christmas trees have branches that are out of place.

Tie a piece of thread on one branch, and holding the spool in one hand, weave it in and out of the branches to get them in the proper places, if you like the tree to be symmetrically perfect.

DEAR HELOISE: All you need to do to get the feathers back in the center of a comforter is wait for a nice, sunny breezy day . . . hang each end of the comforter on opposite clothes lines (center of comforter down), preferably several feet apart!

Let Mother Nature blow out the dust, fluff the feathers and put them back in the center of the comforter where they belong.

ANNELLE.

DEAR HELOISE: Remind the gals not to throw away those beat up old suitcases.

I covered a 25-year-old relic with brown adhesive-backed paper. My son carries it to and from college every week, and it looks fine.

It's also good for storage.

TRIXIE.

Letter Of Laughter

DEAR HELOISE: When our 8-year-old boy could "bust an anvil with a feather" . . . I gave him an old alarm clock, screwdriver, pliers and a tray.

They lasted him the whole mumps period, and he didn't even realize he had been quarantined!

READER.

DEAR HELOISE: I tried this hint when I had pears to can:

I cut the pear in half and use a melon ball cutter to remove the seeds. The pears can then be cored and peeled and it makes a nicer looking pear than if the seeds are cut out with a knife.

MRS. DALE OSWALT.

DEAR HELOISE: If you have trouble with children pushing out the screen on a door, get a curtain rod extension and put it across where they push on it.

I used freezer tape to fasten the rod to the doorframe. One could secure it with tiny nails or screws.

M. PODANY.

Heloise welcomes all mail, especially household hints which she can pass on to readers as space permits. However, because of the tremendous volume of mail she receives daily, Heloise is unable to answer all individual letters. She will answer readers' questions in her column however possible.
